GRAND MASTER

1946

GEORGE WASHINGTON

To Congress, Januray 8, 1790:

"To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace."

JOHN PHILPOT CURRAN

Speech upon the right of election, 1790:

"It is common fate of the indolent to see their rights become a prey to the active. The condition under which God hath given liberty to man is eternal vigilance; which condition if he break, servitude is at once the consequence of his crime and the punishment of the guilt."

ADOLPH HITLER

To the Reichstag January 30, 1939:

"We have just celebrated the fifth anniversary of the conclusion of our non-aggression pact with Poland. There can scarcely be any difference of opinion today among the true friends of peace with regard to the value of this agreement."

The Germans invaded Poland September 1, 1939.

To the Reichstag April 28, 1939.

"None of the Scandinavian statesmen can contend that a request has ever been put to them by the German government or by German public opinion which was incompatible with sovereignty of their State."

The Germans launched a two-pronged attack on Norway and Denmark on April 9, 1940.

To the Reichstag, September 1, 1939.

"Germany has no interests in the West, and our Western wall is for all time the frontier of the Reich on the West. Moreover, we have no aims of any kind there for the future. With this assurance we are in solemn earnest."

On the evening of May 9, 1940, Hitler gave his solemn pledge that Germany had no intention of attacking her small neighbors. Six hours later his armies moved into Holland, Luxembourg and Belgium.

June 5th France was attacked and on June 16th the Government resigned. Hitler demanded that the armistice be signed in the same railway car that held the signing of the Armistice ending the first World War.

To the Reichstag, September 1, 1939:

"I should like here to declare that this political decision means a tremendous departure for the future, and that it is a final one. Russia and Germany fought against each other in World War I. That shall not and will not happen again."

To the Reichstag, July 19, 1940:

"From Britain I now hear only a single cry—the cry, not of the people but the politicians—that the war must go on. It almost causes me pain to think that I should have been selected by Fate to deal the final blow to the structure that these men have already set tottering."

Commemoration of War Dead, March 16, 1941:

"No power and no support coming from any part of the world can change the outcome of this battle in any respect. England will fall."

To the Reichstag, May 4, 1941:

"I shall begin by giving you a brief outline of the aims of Germany's policy in the Balkans. As in the past, the Reich never pursued any territorial or any other selfish interest in the Balkans."

GRAND MASTERS DURING WORLD WAR II

BARON GIICHI TANAKA—JAPAN

Memorial for the Emperor, July 25, 1927:

"In the future, if we want to control China, we must first crush the United States just as in the past we had to fight the Russo-Japanese War. But in order to conquer China, we must first conquer Manchuria and Mongolia. In order to conquer the world, we must first conquer China.

Having China's entire resources at our disposal, we shall proceed to conquer India, the Archipelago, Asia Minor, Central Asia and even Europe."

BENITO MUSSOLINI—ITALY

To the workers of Milan, October 6, 1934:

"If there is a true and fruitful peace, which must be accompanied by justice, we will adorn our rifles with the olive branch, but if this should not come to pass, take it for granted that we, tempered as we are by the Fascist climate, will adorn the points of our bayonets with the oak and laurel of victory."

CHAMBERLIN

September 2, 1939:

"I am speaking to you from the Cabinet Room at 10 Downing Street. This country is at war with Germany. Now may God bless you all, and may He defend the right."

CHURCHILL

To the House of Commons, June 18, 1940:

"The battle of Britain is about to begin. On this battle depends survival of Christian civilization. Hitler knows he will have to break us in this island or lose the war."

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

Broadcast to the Americas, October 12, 1940:

"The core of our defense is the faith we have in the institutions we defend. The Americas will not be scared or threatened into the ways the dictators want us to follow."

To Congress, December 15, 1941:

"The people of this country are totally united in their determination to consecrate our material strength and man-power to bring conclusively to an end the pestilence of aggression which has long menaced the world, and which now has struck deliberately and directly at the safety of the United States."

In an Address July 4th, 1942:

"On the desert sands of Africa, along the thousands of miles of battle lines in Russia, in New Zealand and Australia, and the Islands of the Pacific, in war-torn China and all over the seven seas, FREE MEN ARE fighting desperately—and dying—to preserve the liberties and the decencies of modern civilization."

MASONIC WAR SERVICE BOARD

INTRODUCTORY

The following Foreword is from "Freemen are Fighting" by Oliver Gramling, a newspaper man who was in Europe at the outbreak of the War:

"On August 28, 1939, in the Bronx Zoo in New York City, a baby deer—just born into a world of trouble—was given the name "Crisis." An Atlanta motorcycle cop clocked a brother officer and hauled him into court for exceeding the speed limit. In Shelby, Ohio, an angler claimed some sort of a record for piscatorial efficiency by landing what he described as a live "canned" fish because its head was imprisoned in a discarded soup tin. A farmer in Pineville, West Virginia, exhibited a stalk bearing ten ears of corn, and his superstitious wife said it meant "war within ten months." A transcontinental bus skidded to a stop in Manhattan, Kansas, and two sailors were hauled off—both seasick.

From all over the world there was news—all kinds of news.

Perhaps two stories that day, better than any others, reflected what many people were thinking. They came from across the Atlantic.

The first was from a young foreign correspondent, Drew Middleton. Normally stationed in London, he went to the English countryside to find out what ordinary, everyday people were thinking. He wrote from West Mill, Hertfordshire, England:

This is England, forty miles but 100 years from London.

This is England dropped in the midst of a lush farming country. These are the English, solid, unimaginative farmers who have fought England's battles since Crecy, holding to the English idea that no alien sun shall set on their fields, no alien ideas disturb their lives.

The man on the street in London is a worried fellow.

The man in the country is less worried on the surface, for he fears no air raids. Underneath he is perhaps more worried about what war will do to his ideas, his home, his government.

In this village of 400 they gather in the "pub" evenings just as they do in London. But the talk is less spirited and perhaps more thoughtful.

"Aye, we may find peace by bargaining, but it won't last," said one farmer. "I don't look forward to what'll happen then. I was out last time.

"But things will be good for a while. Wheat prices'll go up which'll help us. But then they'll come down again hard. My boys'll go. Can't keep 'em. They're like colts wanting to run."

He paused and sucked on his pipe.

Another spoke:

"It ain't likely we'll get anything out of it. People like us never do. But we'll fight it.

"What worries me is what's going to happen to us when it's over. We had hard times after the last one. Hard times in it, but harder afterwards."

Another farmer began:

"It ain't no use bargaining. God knows I don't want no war. But them kind. They don't understand. I don't want no war. I have four sons.

I went into the street. In the churchyard the Vicar was walking. We stood and talked. I told him what the men had said.

"They mean it too," he said sadly. "I don't think they mind Germany getting stronger. But they think Hitler broke his word when he took Czecho-Slovakia. They've been angry ever since and they don't cool easily.

That was what ordinary, everyday people along the English country-side were thinking. Across the English Channel, several hundred miles away, other ordinary, everyday people also were thinking. Another young correspondent, Edwin Shanke, talked to them in the streets of Germany:

Tears filled her eyes and trickled down upon the steel fragment in her hand.

Moved by the tenseness of the world situation, this German World War widow was showing some of the mementoes of the last war—mementoes that she had found in the garden of her home in Western Germany, close to the French frontier.

There were rusty shell splinters that had fallen to the ground; a battered part of an English warplane that had been shot down.

She is a proud woman, proud of the fighting ability of the German soldier and convinced they don't come any better.

The war took her husband. And now, she knows, if war comes again chances are fifty-fifty it will take her "war baby." He is somewhere on the Polish Front.

"If I only knew where," she says.

The change that has taken place in her within the last twenty-four hours is remarkable—and she is typical of millions of German men and women today. It is a change all the more remarkable because the Nazi-inspired press and the government-controlled radio are working overtime to show that the "calm of the German people is unbreakable."

It required Germany's extensive mobilization to shake her full faith in another bloodless victory, in which the Poles, as the Czechs before them, would bow before the mighty German nation.

Now, like the others, she watches tight-lipped. Around the corner, automobiles and motorcycles are being commandeered. In the school yard, hundreds of horses are being examined and assigned to the Front.

A policeman explains: "We need the horses because those lazy Poles haven't got the roads we have. There's nothing but mud and sand over there."

The German World War widow nods understandingly when I talk about the possibility of another conflict. She says: "In the twenty years since the World War I've never really known what peace means."

She passes signs reading "To the nearest air raid shelter" on the way to the grocery, to the milk and dairy products store, to the butcher, and to the market. In her hand she crushes the new rationing slip and tries to figure out how she can best take care of her family. She doesn't come back with much.

"Imagine! A thimbleful of milk," she exclaims.

She watches silently as crews of men with acetylene torches cut down iron fences. Steps like these have awakened the German people—almost overnight—to the danger of another war. It has made them nervous and irritable.

Friends call on friends, to comfort each other, to talk over chances of war or peace.

"We went through one World War and haven't recovered yet," one says, "and now we face another. God, I hope everyone can get together again as they did last year and settle it over the conference table."

Someone turns on the radio to catch the last-minute news. But only martial music blares forth, as it has almost constantly for the past three days.

THESE two stories—one from the village of West Mill, Hertfordshire, England, and the other from Berlin, Germany—told something of what ordinary, everyday, people were thinking on August 28, 1939. They still felt the same way three days later, but by that time the thing they dreaded had arrived.

Louis Lochner stood in Berlin's Kroll Opera House to catch the words that plunged the world into another war. The setting was not new to him. A special meeting of the Reichstag at 10 A. M. . . . Hitler screaming . . . Hitler prancing . . . Hitler flailing the air on a stage built for music and laughter . . . Hitler, self-hypnotized

The one-time Austrian paperhanger's words brought the rubber-stamps of Nazism to their feet and provided Lochner's story:

Adolf Hitler declared to the German nation today that he would achieve the return of Danzig and the Polish corridor and halt Polish attacks on Germans or die fighting.

As a sign of determination to "live henceforth more than ever for Germany alone," the Fuehrer and his adjutants appeared at a momentous Reichstag session in gray uniforms. Greeted by a great ovation, he plunged directly into his subject. He declared: "We meet to solve the problem raised by the Versailles treaty."

Then the deputies rose to their feet and "heiled" as he cried: "I have never desired anything more than to serve the State as a soldier. I am putting on the uniform and I shall take it off only in victory or death!"

Hitler disclosed that he had picked his successors as leaders of the Reich in case anything happened to him. Field Marshall Hermann Goering and Rudolf Hess, deputy fuehrer, were first and second choices respectively. If something happened to both of them, he said, the nation would be led by men chosen as the bravest by the senate of the Nazi party.

Germany will not count on Italian support, he declared, while, on the other hand Russia is now "the Reich's eternal friend."

Said Herr Hitler: "I should above all like to thank Italy, which has supported us this whole time. You will understand, however, that I do not want to appeal for foreign aid to carry this fight through. We shall solve this task ourselves."

In essence Hitler's speech was a reiteration of the German plea that every attempt to get a peaceful revision of "Intolerable conditions" had failed. He said Germany's demands had been "modest and loyal" but the reply of Poland and the Western Powers had been nothing but provocation.

"It is a lie," he said, "that we do all by force."

(NOTE:—More than five hours before, Germany had marched on Poland.)

In a last minute effort to stave off action by Britain and France, Hitler renounced all claims on them. By implication, this included renunciation of Germany's colonial claims.

"We want nothing from the Western Powers and we have formally declared we have no claims against them," he said. "Our West Wall (of fortifications) is also our west border."

He refrained from declaring war on Poland, but said he would continue to fight until Poland's government yielded or was supplanted by a government that would yield. Germany will not fight women and children, he said, but if its opponent resorts to such warfare, Germany will answer "bomb with bomb and gas with gas."

He said that if Germany submitted to Poland's treatment of his latest settlement proposals—Poland refused even to discuss them—Germany would deserve to withdraw from the political stage.

He told the cheering Reichstag that since early morning, Germany had been returning shot for shot.

He called the German Army the best in the world—equipped at a cost of 90,000,000,000 marks ($36,000,000,000).

Hitler was at his oratorical best. He looked worn and tired, but his voice was strong and his gestures vigorous.

He was followed on the rostrum by Minister of the Interior Wilhelm Frick, who proposed a law that decreed Danzig was a part of the Reich and that its citizens had German nationality. The measure was adopted unanimously. Then Field Marshall Goering, on behalf of the Reichstag and the German people, pledged Hitler unswerving loyalty and unquestioning obedience.

Hours before Hitler began his Reichstag tirade, fighting had started at Danzig. It began at the Polish munitions depot at Westerplatte in Danzig Bay. Lynn Heinzerling was there and heard the first shots:

In a Danzig hotel lobby I heard a German officer who usually slept late leave a call for 3:15 the next morning—Friday, September 1. I realized then that it was coming.

It was 4:47 A. M. by my watch when the firing started. I ran down the hotel stairs several steps at a time.

The night watchman said:

"Es geht los." (It's started)

I ran toward the Vistula River. There I saw what it was—the German warship Schleswig-Holstein firing on the Polish munitions depot at Westerplatte.

(NOTE:—Although the firing started at 4:47 A. M., Hitler's order of the day instructing the German Army to "meet force with force" was not timed until 5:30 A. M.)

Already the warship's white sides were blackened from the powder of the shells she was pouring onto the heavily wooded Westerplatte peninsula from 18-centimeter and 28 centimeter guns. Surprisingly enough, I found a taxi that took me to the former Customs House. From there I climbed a hill behind the lines.

Below, German soldiers were guarding all approaches to the waterfront and clearing the entire harbor district of thousands of civilians to make way for the air raids that were to come. Windows all through the district were smashed by the force of the explosions of the shells from the cruiser.

The Schleswig-Holstein was standing out in the harbor, not far off shore. Beyond the peninsula, in Danzig Bay, were other ships of the German fleet. Between the two forces lay the little peninsula, completely surrounded by the enemy territory and offering no chance for retreat or escape. The Poles seemed to be drawing back, strictly on the defensive, and their firing apparently had no definite objective.

After an hour of shelling from the Schleswig-Holstein, I saw a German landing party set out, but the attempt to storm the Poles failed. A cross fire of machine guns, the Pole's chief armament, drove them back with heavy losses. As the battle progressed, my movements were restricted sharply. Still I had a chance to see the wreckage of the Dirschau Bridge, which the Poles had mined in advance, then blown up to cover, their retreat.

This fighting that Heinzerling saw in Danzig Bay marked the start of Hitler's long-threatened conquest. While Hitler had harangued the Reichstag on September 1, Nazi planes also were swarming toward Warsaw. His first blitzkrieg was on. Lloyd Lehrbas, like thousands of inhabitants of Warsaw, heard the roar of Nazi motors and saw the bombs come down. With a telephone in one hand and a gas mask in the other he stood by and told what he saw over a line to Budapest.

German warplanes swooped over Warsaw this afternoon in an air attack in advance of three Hitler armies invading this country.

From where I am I can hear the wail of power-diving fighting ships and can see fourteen German bombers slowly, steadily following the course of the Vistula River, Poland's outlet to the sea. Apparently they are attempting to destroy all bridges.

The raid began at about 4:30 P. M. (11:30 A. M. N. Y. time) and is still continuing more than an hour later. Now they are coming back after making a wide circle. They are apparently heading toward government buildings in the center of downtown Warsaw. I can see puffs of anti-aircraft fire.

Although the raid is still on, there is no panic. Across the street from me hundreds of inhabitants are watching fascinated on rooftops. Tremendous explosions are shaking the city and rattling windows. Anti-aircraft shells are bursting around the bombers which are coming over at an altitude of about 6,000 feet.

Warsaw had little warning. Elmer W. Peterson, Associated Press chief of bureau here, and I heard the anti-aircraft guns before we heard the scream of air raid alarm sirens.

If the bombers have tied up traffic over the steel railroad bridge spanning the Vistula, it is a serious blow for Poland's traffic from here to the coast and to the west. The Germans apparently tried for definite military objectives.

Reports have started reaching here of air attacks elsewhere in Poland. A large number of women and children were killed when Nazi planes bombed a refugee train from Poznan at the Kutno station, seventy miles west of Warsaw. A hospital for feeble-minded Jewish children also was hit.

This Lehrbas story by no means told all of what happened in Warsaw and elsewhere that fantastic day. Hundreds of colleagues, stationed like sentries over all the trouble spots, added the details. It was undeclared war—dictator style.

Puzzled, unenthusiastic Berliners looked at each other, and resigned themselves. French civilians began to evacuate Paris. A million children, each carrying a gas mask trekked out of London. Half-naked English laborers piled up sandbags.

President Roosevelt issued a plea against the bombing of non-combatants.

A 70 year-old grandmother in Bellingham, Washington, had her picture taken with her newest catch—a 47-pound salmon. Thirty Washington admireres of John Nance Garner announced formation of an “Evil Old Man’s Club” after labor leader John Lewis had dubbed the Vice-President of the United States an “evil, whisky-drinking old man.” The British Association for the Advancement of Science canceled its meeting.

Britain and France already had parried too many threats with too many conciliatory words. A year before there had been “Munich” and Europe’s “War of Nerves.” Appeasers Chamberlain and Daladier had handed over Czecho-Slovakia (without even her consent), naively seeking to establish “peace for our time” after another Hitler promise:

‘The Sudetenland is the last territorial demand I have to make in Europe, but it is a demand from which I never will recede.’

And as far back as March—five months earlier—the Western Powers had pledged aid to Poland in the event she had to resist a threat to her independence.

Now blitzkrieg had come in spite of millions of “diplomatic” words and innumerable conferences. But Britain and France still did not declare immediate war. They followed the 1914 pattern and issued an ultimatum: “Withdraw from Poland or we will fight.” It was delivered even as stricken Warsaw smoldered and border cities lay under seige of German Troops. It went unanswered.

Spain announced strict neutrality. Yugoslavia, Rumania, Denmark, Latvia, and Bulgaria did the same. Portugal took a similar view. The Argentine Government urged its people to keep calm. Finland said it would keep out. Ditto Lithuania. Ditto Cuba. Ditto helpless or semi-helpless countries around the world.

While a sad-faced news statistician was figuring that 8,500,000 were killed in World War I, Britain and France, their ultimatum still unanswered, rushed complete mobilization. That same night of September 1, the largest city in the world looked like this:

The lights of London went out tonight, not alone by air raid precaution orders, but in dread of a winged terror that might fly in the dark.

Three weeks ago London had a “blackout rehearsal” but it was nothing like this.

In the streets tonight you ran your head into lampposts and whistled vainly for taxis that were only wavering shapes in the fog and drizzle that swept in from the Channel. No one treated the blackout as a joke and there was little traffic.

In cavernous railway stations, covered windows kept the light in as families gathered to leave the city and as reservists with rifles in one hand and umbrellas in the other wandered about looking for trains.

The pubs were comparatively empty and stores did little business. Firehouses, air raid precaution centers and police stations were the busiest places. The one aim seemed preparedness.

That represented a free people’s first real experience with “blackout”. It also represented a new problem—a new technique in war. There had been practice blackouts, all of them an incongruous, ironic note in twentieth-century living. Englishmen had squirmed under them—in Folkstone one test had drawn the complaint that it interfered with the traditional Saturday night bath—but England was facing stupefying reality, and the famous London fog now had ominous, terrifying competition.

SEPTEMBER 2 came and the Nazi fighting continued. More places bombed . . . more people killed. . . more property blown to bits and thrown with crushing, obliterating force on helpless people.

Then Britain and France issued their last ultimatums. Hitler had a matter of hours to withdraw from Poland. The time for reply terminated at 11 A. M., London time, Sunday, September 3. The dead-line approached. How was the average Londoner feeling about it? Fred Vanderschmidt found out:

Ten minutes to eleven o'clock . . . two old women walk serenely down a Kensington side street on their way to church. The church bells ring deeply and mournfully. But the street is sunlit and quiet.

Five minutes to eleven o'clock . . . a decrepit London taxi wheels placidly around Trafalgar Square. A few men doze on the benches in the sun. The big clock says it's five minutes to wartime. A little girl in a green coat and her nanny stroll along in intimate conversation. Wonder why they haven't moved her out of London.

There are sandbags around the buildings and the sunlight glances off the tin hats of blue-coated bobbies. There is enough sand piled up here and there to make a little seashore, and the soldiers in khaki battle dress are hurrying everywhere with their neat little knapsacks with service gas masks inside.

Two minutes to eleven . . . plain people line up across from Downing Street. They are very quiet. There is Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare walking slowly from Number 12 Downing Street, the office of the conservative whip in Parliament, to number 10 where Neville Chamberlain is waiting.

11:15 in London . . . faces in Downing Street strain towards the wide black door of Number 10 and there is scarcely a whisper as Big Ben booms. Down on the broad Victoria Embankment men in civilian clothes and steel helmets hurry quietly along.

The radio plays soft symphony music, and at this hour Great Britain and the Third Reich are at war.

11:15 o'clock . . . the sad voice of Chamberlain falling almost to a hush: "I am speaking to you from the Cabinet room at Ten Downing Street . . . This country is at war with Germany . . . Now may God bless you all and may He defend the right . . . "

Buckingham Palace . . . a handful of tired faced people outside, sentries in tin hats and battle dress, and conical steel sand-bagged sentry boxes in a great cement yard. Inside, a youthful earnest couple bending over the radio . . . the King and Queen.

11:32 in London . . . the wail of sirens echoes through the empty Sunday streets. Men with flags and whistles and steel helmets spring into the streets. Stray pedestrians run for shelter. Anti-gas trucks stand at the curbs. It seems that every doorway had its air raid warden. They are courteous and calm but they make you get off the streets and into comparative safety of ground floor and basements if no orthodox shelter is in sight. Yet many cling to doorways and peer upward if they can.

11:40 . . . a long note of the siren's "all clear", the signal blows at intervals, and then the Air Ministry explains the alarm was caused by an airplane, which later proved "friendly," off the South Coast.

Noon in London . . . "all clear" signals echo around courtyards of Buckingham Palace. The sovereigns and their household are in a brief service of prayer. In Fleet Street the cables come to life again. The air raid wardens go back to their machines and more news goes out: Men with relieved faces swish into pubs in tall rubber boots and shout for their pints. Their gas masks swing unused from their belts.

That was London. In many parts of the world, due to time differences, people were still asleep. In New York it was only a little after 6 A. M. and the streets were deserted in the Sunday dawn, except for a few people en route to St. Patrick's Cathedral and other places of worship. In many of the earlier time zones there was the usual stir, and in the churches of Wales benedictions were pronounced and congregations sang:

Praise God, from Whom all blessings flow!

Praise Him, all creatures here below!

Praise Him above, ye Heavenly host!

Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost!

Along the cables under the Atlantic, through the ether and over telephone lines, sped the news which all newsmen knew would come. Britain finally had declared war on Germany. France quickly followed.

THE PATTERN of United States reaction came from many sources. In Washington, Kirke Simpson, who wrote the famous Unknown Soldier stories of 1921, had just finished an estimate of U. S. German relations:

The outbreak of war in Europe finds German-American relations far less cordial than in 1914 when the World War began.

The capitals of both countries are without their respective ambassadors. Already nine months have passed since President Roosevelt called Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson home for report and consultation after a severe anti-Semitic outbreak. He has not been returned, and there seems no intention of sending him back. German Ambassador Dieckhoff has been absent from his post for the same length of time.

In the last year and a half the United States and Germany have found it almost impossible to settle problems that rose between them.

A series of notes passed between them on the subject of Austria's debts to the United States Government (around $24,000,000 plus about $20,000,000 in debts to private American investors), but no settlement has been reached. Germany alleges she cannot pay the obligations of the country she took over unless the United States takes into account the unfavorable trade balance with this country. This, Secretary of State Cordell Hull will not do.

Another series of exchanges has taken place on the subject of mistreatment of American Jews in Germany.

German exports to this country not only pay higher duties than the products of other countries because she is on the American economic blacklist, but they also pay punitive customs because countervailing duties of 25 per cent were levied on the grounds that Germany subsidizes exports. With different systems of trade dividing them, commerce between the two nations has declined markedly in the last several years.

Two points of difficulty have been eased slightly in recent months. An agreement was concluded whereby American citizens who receive inheritances from Germans will have a little less trouble getting their heritages out of Germany. And Hitler agreed to a more orderly exodus of Jewish refugees.

Two recent developments in this country have concerned German-American relations. In June a mixed-claims commission decided that the explosions that occurred at the Black Tom and Kingsland arsenals, New Jersey, in 1916-1917, were the result of German sabotage. American claims against Germany for $50,000,000 were validated. This was a reversal of a decision made by the commission at Hamburg in 1930, which accepted the industrial accident theory.

A second development was the investigation by the Securities Commission into the issue of $73,000,000 in German bonds in this country. The SEC ruled that, before the bond issue could be approved, the commission must have information concerning the German budget, the German public debt, gold and foreign exchange, et cetera. The German Embassy declared that the demands for information were such that no sovereign government could comply with them.

German activities here have been investigated by the House Committee on un-American activities. German spies were convicted in a spectacular trial some months ago. The United States, after granting an export license for helium for the new German dirigible, refused to sell the gas to Germany. This government also refused to recognize Germany's acquisition of Czecho-Slovakia.

President Roosevelt has repeatedly condemned European dictators and appealed indirectly to the German people on several occasions. Reichsfuehrer Hitler did not even deign to reply directly to Roosevelt's appeal to him in April. Instead, he made a public speech in which he derided the democracies and shot many shafts of sarcasm at Roosevelt.

"With the beginning of the war in Europe and its increasing proportions, began to rekindle patriotism in America and the fear that this country would soon become involved, the government inaugurated Lend Lease to assist the overrun countries in Europe in their struggle to defend themselves against the war monger, which provoked Germany into a gigantic submarine campaign against the United States, many lend lease cargo ships and merchant vessels were being sunk in the Atlantic and in many other waters.

The ire of the government and the American people became so aroused that defence preparations were established. Selective Service was inaugurated on September 16, 1940 and early in 1941 the National Guard was mobilized, The 43rd Division, composed of troops in Maine, Vermont, Connecticut and Rhode Island were ordered to Camp Blanding, Florida for intensive training. But war was not declared until December 8, 1941 the day following the sneak attack by the Japanese at Pearl Harbor, which resulted in the loss of several thousand men and millions of dollars in damage to Army, Navy, Marine and Air equipment as well as property damage. This occurred at a time when two Japanese statesmen were in Washington pretensively negotiating friendly relations with the United States. The result we need not elaborate upon, it is well known to all."

The Grand Lodge soon realized the gravity of conditions and the Grand Master, Raymond L. Vaughn, who was elected at the Annual Communication in May 1941, appointed a Masonic War Service Board consisting of Colonel Winfield S. Solomon, Past Grand Master, Chairman, Major Hugh B. Carpenter, Past Master; Major Harold R. Semple, Past Master; Captain Minot J. Crowell, Past Master and Donald E. Spears, Past Master. The following resolution was unanimously passed by Grand Lodge:

RESOLUTION

Resolved, That an assessment equivalent to one dollar per capita be, and the same is hereby levied upon each subordinate Lodge in this jurisdiction. Said assessment shall be based upon the last official returns of membership of said Lodges, in the hands of the Grand Secretary, less such members as shall have had their current dues remitted by said Lodges, and less such members as are now in the Armed Forces of the United States. Said assessment shall be paid to the Grand Secretary on or before the 1st day of February, 1943; and be it further

Resolved, That the money so raised shall be transmitted by the Grand Secretary to the Grand Treasurer and said moneys, together with such other voluntary contributions as may from time to time be received by the Grand Treasurer for the same purpose shall constitute a fund to be known as the Masonic War Service Fund; and be it further

Resolved, That the income and principal of said fund shall be disbursed under the direction of the War Service Board and with the approval of the Grand Master; and be it further

Resolved, That each subordinate Lodge be and it is hereby authorized to assess its members a like amount, if it so elects; provided, however, that any member of said Lodge in the Armed Forces of the United States shall be exempt from said assessment.

MASONIC SERVICE CENTER

NEWPORT, R. I.

The Masonic Service Center in Newport was located in the Masonic Temple, at the corner of Church and School streets. It was sponsored by the Masonic Service Association of the United States in conjunction with the Masonic War Service Board of Rhode Island.

The Center was well equipped with every form of recreation and means of entertainment for the men in the armed services, including pool and ping pong tables; shuffleboard; reading and writing rooms, snack bar, etc.

Thousands of men took advantage of the facilities afforded by the Masonic Fraternity. At times there were upwards of twenty-five to thirty thousand men stationed in this vicinity, largely Navy personnel from the Naval Training Station, Torpedo Station, War College, Hospital, Melville Net & Fuel Depot, Fort Adams and Jamestown. On numerous occasions large units of the Fleet would rendezvous in Narragansett Bay.

In addition to his duties at the Center the Director in charge made almost daily visits to the Newport Naval Hospital and rendered service to our brethren and their sons who were patients at the Hospital. Although the Center was officially closed on September 30, 1946, this Hospital service is being continued by the Masonic Service Association.

The Grand Lodge and the War Board are deeply grateful for the fine service rendered at this Center by brothers Frank E. Hartwell and Lincoln P. Cole.

Colonel Winfield S. Solomon,
Masonic War Service Board,
Providence, R. I.

Dear Colonel Solomon:—

I have just been up to see the new furniture which the Masonic War Service Board of Rhode Island so generously and patriotically gave for the WAAC Officers' recreation room here at Fort Adams. It is beautiful, and their otherwise very drab and unattractive recreation room is now an attractive and homelike place. I am quite sure the WAAC Officers will be highly pleased when they arrive.

May I express to you, and through you, to all of your members my sincerest thanks for your most generous gift.

Sincerely yours,

Colonel Winfield S. Solomon,
Masonic War Service Board,
Providence, R. I.

Dear Colonel Solomon:—

Received your recent letter in regard to Robert Christopher Claflin, who is in training here. I was sorry to learn when I called the station that he had been transferred to the Naval Hospital, due to an attack of appendicitis. Made inquiries at the Hospital, and when I called this morning I was very glad to learn that he was convalescing and would be discharged from the hospital and returned to the station in about a week. As soon as he is back to duty I will have him on the ship for an interview. Will do what I can to get him a good start in the service and will advise you further in the matter.

I am very glad to be of service and to be able to give a helping hand to my friends.

With very best wishes,

John Davis

BATTERY K, 701ST COAST ARTILLERY (AA)

Newport, R. I.

June 2, 1943

Mr. Winfield S. Solomon,
Masonic War Service Board,
Providence, R. I.

Dear Mr. Solomon:—

The Officers and enlisted men of Battery "K", 701st Coast Artillery (AA), wish to thank your organization for repairing our pool table.

In our present position the men have very little opportunity to get into the city for entertainment. So, they appreciate a pool table much more than they might in another location. You can be sure that what you have done to make life here a little more enjoyable for us has not been wasted effort.

Very sincerely,

Walter A. Gilmore,
1st Lt. 701st CA (AA)
Commanding.

Colonel W. S. Solomon,
Masonic War Service Board,
Providence, R. I.

Dear Col. Solomon:—

As Lt. Gilmour is no longer with this Battalion, the undersigned would like to acknowledge your very kind letter of 20 March offering us a radio for an outpost.

Such a gift would be most welcome indeed as some of the outposts are pretty well isolated from everything, and your radio would make a welcome addition to the lives of our soldiers occupying the outpost.

Would you kindly give me all information regarding this radio so that I may make the necessary arrangements to have it picked up immediately.

Very sincerely yours,

James D. O'Quinn,
1st Lt. 368th AAA SLT Bn.
Special Service Officer.

P. S. The radio was delivered to an outpost along the seashore beyond Little Compton.

Colonel Winfield S. Solomon,
Masonic War Service Board,
Providence, R. I.

Dear Colonel Solomon:—

I have yours of the 21st instant in regard to David F. Crowell, son of our mutual friend Captain Crowell. David came to the ship today at my invitation and I had a talk with him in regard to his preference for service while in the Navy. He expressed the desire to become a Quartermaster and I have taken the matter up with a very good friend of mine in the Selection Office here at the Training Station who will doubtless do all in his power to have him selected for the Quartermaster School. The young man has a second and third choice for training school and I am sure he will make one of these schools. He seems to be a very nice lad and I was glad to help him. I feel satisfied that he will give a good account of himself in the Navy.

Please remember me to Captain Crowell. My best wishes to you both.

Sincerely yours,

John Davis,
Lieut. Comdr. USN Ret.
Commanding U. S. S. Constellation.

UNITED STATES COAST GUARD,
NEWPORT, R. I.

18 December 1943

Colonel Winfield S. Solomon,
Masonic War Service Board,
Providence, R. I.

Dear Sir:—

May I, in all sincerity, express my deepest appreciation and gratitude to you and to the Masonic Organization in behalf of the men of the United States Coast Guard, for the very kind donation of a pool table.

A notice will be printed and posted in a conspicuous place, informing the personnel as to whom the donor of the pool table was.

The pool table which you were so kind to donate to us has been set up in the new recreation hall of the Coast Guard base here in Newport. I am certain that the Coast Guard personnel stationed at this base will derive much benefit and happiness through your kindness.

Sincerely,

E. B. Sawtelle

Section Coast Guard Officer

MASONIC OFFICERS CENTER

BOQ

217 Hope Street, Providence

The beautiful residence at the corner of Stimson Avenue and Hope Street, which was given to the Grand Lodge some years ago by Mrs. Bertram Horton, was vacant for six years. When it looked as though the United States would be drawn into World War II, it was suggested that the house be put in order, furnished, and used for a Bachelor Officers' Quarters. The suggestion met with the hearty approval of General Truesdell, Commanding General of the Sixth Corps, whose headquarters was nearby on Hope Street. It was opened December 1, 1941, and closed June 30, 1946. During this time more than five hundred officers resided at the Center.

The Officers Center, like all other Masonic activities in Rhode Island, was non-sectarian. Officers of any faith were welcome. In fact, at one time a Protestant Chaplain and a Catholic Chaplain occupied the same room. This room became known as the room where they "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition."

For furnishing this house the Masonic War Service Board is most grateful to the various Masonic bodies and semi-Masonic organizations for their splendid cooperation. Palestine Temple, Mystic Shrine, furnished the living room; the Trowel Club of Providence furnished the Music Room; Massasoit Forest Tall Cedars of Lebanon furnished a bedroom; the Eastern Star furnished the draperies for the windows on the first floor; the Rainbow Girls furnished curtains for the windows on the second and third floors. The following Masonic bodies also furnished rooms: Harmony Lodge, No. 9, Union Lodge, No. 10, What Cheer Lodge, No. 21, Overseas Lodge, No. 40, Thomas Smith Webb Lodge, No. 43, and Providence Royal Arch Chapter, No. 1. A number of other Lodges and individuals contributed so many articles that we are unable to mention all of them.

In securing Mrs. Florence O. Nickerson as the hostess, we were indeed fortunate. She made breakfast for the officers every morning, took care of them when they were sick, comforted them in time of sorrow, and was always ready to be of assistance in any way. She was generally known by them as "Mother Nick," and the Officers Center was like home to them. In carrying out this work Mrs. Nickerson was assisted by her husband, Brother LeRoy W. Nickerson, a member of Orpheus Lodge. Mrs. Nickerson has two large scrapbooks filled with wonderful letters and cards received from "her boys" while serving overseas.

Many social functions were held at the Center, including receptions to Major General Reinhardt and Major General Dawley. Afternoon Teas were given for the ladies of the 6th Corps and 13th Corps. Several weddings and wedding receptions were held in this palatial home. Grand Masters and their officers enjoyed dinners in its beautiful mahogany dining room, prepared and served by "Mother Nick," after which conferences were held. Red Cross units frequently met there to make bandages. The Eastern Star, the Cancer and Sunshine Societies held several meetings there in connection with their war-time activities. One beautiful summer day the Eastern Star held a Garden Party on the lawn. These activities were held in the day-time, while the officers were busy with their work.

At first the Center was occupied wholly by Army Officers, but when Corps Headquarters was transferred, the Naval Officers predominated. Included among these was a number of officers of the British Navy, several of whom were connected with the

New Zealand and Australian Branch. These officers were sent to Providence to man the ships being built at the Walsh-Kaiser Shipyard, and they were delightful young men.

On holidays, particularly Thanksgiving and Christmas, "Mother Nick" would invite those officers who lived too far away to visit their homes, to have dinner with her in the dining room, when the large table, which comfortably seated twelve, was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The following letters are a few of many received, expressing appreciation of our Officers Center and Mother Nick.

Ft. Geo. G. Meade, Md.

November 16, 1942

Dear Mr. Arnott:

Your very kind letter and invitation dated November 2, which was forwarded from Providence, has just reached me.

I don't know how to express my appreciation of your kindness in extending me this invitation. I can say only this, that it is in keeping with the spirit of hospitality which I found in all the people of Providence and Rhode Island, that it was my good fortune to meet. I deeply regret that I could not be with you and enjoy the good company which was there.

I must take this opportunity to thank you and the Grand Lodge for the fine thing you have done in establishing and operating the "Masonic Orphans' Home" at 217 Hope Street. I doubt there is another town in the country where an officer can find such a home away from home. And I must pay tribute to Mrs. Nickerson also. I doubt that a search of the country would disclose another like her. No one could be more cordial, more helpful or give the "Home" a finer spirit of "homeness" than she does. I haven't met any one who is making a finer contribution to the war than Mrs. Nickerson.

But I could continue in such vein indefinitely. Let me say only this, an "unreconstructed rebel" moved in on the "Damn Yankees" and found the finest crowd of people he had ever met,—warm, cordial, hospitable and just plain nice people. My visit to Rhode Island will always be one of the high spots in my life, and I will hold a strong affection for the place and the people forever.

Sincerely, GODFREY CHESHIRE

Dear Sir:

Our stay in Providence has come to an end, and I should like to take this opportunity of expressing my thanks, on behalf of my staff, and all the Officers of The Royal Navy who have been fortunate enough to stay at Hope Street, for the wonderful home that you have enabled them to have there. I assure you that the amenities of the club, and the complete cooperation and willing help, from Mrs. Nickerson have been very much appreciated at all times.

I would be grateful if you would pass on my thanks to all concerned in your good work.

Yours Sincerely,

31 January, 1946.

Dear Mrs. Nicky:—

Notice the stationery I'M using. None other than the one you gave me during my happy stay at 217, I just got back from Miami Beach and I haven't completely unpacked yet. The truth of the matter is that I haven't any other paper and besides, I like to use these sheets because they bring back so many happy memories.

I may as well start from the beginning and tell you what I've been doing these past few weeks. I went to Philadelphia and was discharged on January 4, 1946. I stayed at the Ben Franklin for a few days and even with their ice show, I wouldn't trade one minute of the time I spent at 217 for the entire set-up.

How have you been Mrs. Nick? How is Mr. Nickerson? How are all the boys? Have any of them left? Be sure and tell them all I said hello. Grand bunch.

There is much more I would like to tell you but unfortunately I must go out and check on a few things and I do want to get this letter off today. Please write to me Mrs. Nick because I do intend to pay you a visit as soon as I can.

Love to a grand person,
Johnny.

Dear Mrs. Nicky:—

Needless to say, I was terribly disappointed at Captain Gesen's failure to hold me. Certainly this Camp lacks the warmth and comfort of your most friendly household. I sincerely miss your cheerful company and the many kindnesses that you all too willingly performed in my behalf. Never will I cease being grateful to my second mother, Mrs. Nicky.

Long will the memory of our Thanksgiving spent together remain in my mind. It was not only my first Thanksgiving Day spent in the States in over four years, but also it was my happiest. We all appreciate the work and expense that this great kindness of yours demanded.

Please continue to list me as one of your most grateful boys. You will always be remembered by me with sincere fondness and love. May God bless you always for being my mother's nearest competitor for my love.

I send my best to Mr. Nickerson and all my brothers in your household, Indeed, I would appreciate hearing from you. The short time I spent with you was the happiest period of my Navy career. Please continue to watch over Kolody and especially Parriss who I am certain is engaged by now. It was a great privilege for me to meet and spend the day with the members of your family, my best regards are extended to them.

I'm hoping that we will be able to have a happy reunion in the near future, Meanwhile take the best of care of the finest and happiest woman I have ever known.

All my love and gratitude to Mrs. Nicky.

My Dear Mrs. Nickerson:—

Although I have been in America for some time since I left your home, I have not been so happy and contented as when living with you. The understanding, cheerful and motherly care which you gave to myself and all the officers who stayed with you will always be a pleasant memory.

I have traveled most countries and have yet to find better hospitality and friendliness. I would like you to give my deepest appreciation to the Free Masons who have so kindly opened their arms to make us so welcome and at home.

How you find the energy to do so much Red Cross work and entertaining, yet keep so sunny is beyond my understanding. I hope I may see you again some time, and I shall certainly make an effort to do so should I return to this country.

With very kind regards to yourself and Mr. Nickerson, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

MILITARY WEDDING

MASONIC OFFICERS CENTER

The first wedding at the Masonic Officers Center took place on Monday, October 26, 1942, when Miss Lillian Provencal, of Hartford, Conn., became the bride of Lieutenant William Lennart Montstream, also of Hartford. The ceremony was performed by Lt. Col. Karl Schleede, Chaplain of the 6th Corps. The best man was Capt. Walter E. Slide, who was the groom's Company Commander. The wedding march was played by Corporal Donald Burd of the same Company. The Matron of Honor was Mrs. Leroy W. Nickerson, hostess at the Masonic Center. When all was in readiness, the wedding party marched down the stairs into the large reception room where the ceremony was performed.

Arrangements for the wedding were made by Col. Winfield Scott Solomon, Chairman of the Masonic War Board, who acted as Master of Ceremonies. Following the ceremony a reception was held, which was largely attended by the Officers and their ladies of the 6th Corps. The couple were the recipients of many presents including a traveling case and the wedding cake from the Masonic War Service Board. Grand Master David Arnott and Colonel Harold P. Gibson, Chief of Staff of the 6th Corps representing the Commanding General E. J. Dawley, honored the occasion.

WEDDING RECEPTION

Miss Mary Borden of Clarksdale, Miss., daughter of Mrs. L. E. Borden of Little Rock, Ark., and Mr. B. C. Borden of Clarksdale, Miss., was married to Lt. Archie Silimperi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Silimperi of Bethlehem, Pa., on Saturday evening, June 19, 1944, in the Chapel of the Cathedral of Sts. Peter and Paul with Rev. Thomas J. Dempsey officiating. The couple were attended by Lt. Col. and Mrs. George H. Lutz, Jr.

The bride and bridegroom attended the University of Alabama, where Lt. Silimperi was a law student. He is now stationed in Providence at the Army Induction Center and resided at the Masonic Officers Center, having recently returned from active duty in North Africa.

The following letter was received from Mrs. Silimperi a few days following the wedding:

Dear Col. Solomon:—

"We want to thank you, the members of the Grand Lodge and the members of the War Board Committee, for your goodness to us. It is hard to find words to adequately express our appreciation for all you have done.

We have so much to thank you for—the beautiful reception, your useful gift of handsome luggage, but most of all for your friendly interest in us and gracious hospitality. The Center looked so pretty. The cake was lovely and it was a pleasure to be greeted by Mr. Simpson and the others. We have been very happy in Providence and feel that you have contributed most generously in that happiness. Thank you each of you, again."

Sincerely,

Mary and Archie Silimperi

MASONIC SERVICE CENTER

PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Palestine Temple, Mystic Shrine opened its doors and facilities for the use of the men in the Armed Forces. The Shrine Club is located at the corner of Washington and Aborn Streets, opposite the Majestic Theatre. The third floor was made available for the service men, where bowling alleys, pool and billiard tables, ping pong table, reading, writing and game rooms were located. The Center was in charge of Brother Charles E. Cannon, a member of St. Johns Lodge, No. 1, Providence, who rendered excellent service to the thousands of brethren and non-Masons, representing every jurisdiction in this country and many foreign visitors. Charley, being a native Rhode Islander, not only answered many questions concerning the City and State, but in addition furnished much Masonic information. Brother Cannon wrote many letters to the families of service men who were on their way overseas. He has a wonderful collection of letters received from the parents of the boys.

This Center later was moved to 437 Westminster Street, where it was operated in conjunction with the Masonic Service Association of the United States.

MASONIC SERVICE CENTER

BRISTOL, R. I.

The Masonic Service Center in Bristol was located in the Masonic Temple at the corner of Hope and Church Streets. The Masonic War Service Board was given the use of the Club rooms on the second floor by St. Albans Lodge. The rooms were very spacious and were furnished with two pool tables, ping pong table, reading, writing and game rooms. This Center afforded a much appreciated place of recreation for Navy personnel who were ordered to Bristol to man the speed boats built at the Herreshoff Ship Yards, an Army Observation Post on top of Mount Hope, the Coast Guard Station, and the Navy and Marine personnel stationed on Prudence Island.

The cooperation of St. Albans Lodge and Worshipful Brother Herbert B. Burnham, Jr., Chairman, is greatly appreciated by Grand Lodge and the War Board.

Dear Friends:—

Having been transferred upon very short notice was the cause of my leaving Bristol last Wednesday so hurriedly. The notice given two other members of the group-plus myself was so short that we did not have the time to even stop in to say farewell let alone time to thank you for all that you did for us during our stay at Mount Hope. I hope some day to be able to return to see you all again but in the mean time I want to thank you all for what you did for us and I am sure none of us will ever forget your kindly favors. With the hope of meeting you all again I will close this letter wishing you all the best of luck.

MASONIC SERVICE CENTER

WESTERLY, R. I.

The Masonic Service Center in Westerly was located in the rooms of the Square and Compass Club in the Potter-Langworthy Building, 70 High Street. The Masonic War work in Westerly was one of the most satisfactory conducted by the Masonic War Board of Grand Lodge which was largely due to the untiring efforts of the local committee, of which Brother Richard Mitchell was chairman, ably assisted by Brother Lewis R. Greene. The club rooms were open for the convenience of the members of the Armed Forces. The rooms were well furnished with pool tables, ping pong tables, reading, writing and game rooms.

Dances were held regularly in Westerly and every other week a bus load of young ladies were transported to outlying Camps where dances were held in the recreation room. These dances were held at Arcadia, Camp Burlingame, Atlantic Beach, and the Charlestown Air Port. This service was greatly appreciated by the officers as well as the men. The officers said the men not only had a better time, but they were in Camp enjoying themselves, while if on pass in the city, the officers could not be responsible.

The group of young ladies were known as "Corvettes." When the Organization was formed, a committee of representatives of all the local Masonic bodies, including the Eastern Star, met and decided upon Mrs. John J. Connolly, a Roman Catholic, to be the leader of the Corvettes. It proved to be a very happy choice. The War Board as well as the local committee are grateful to Mrs. Connolly for the excellent manner in which she managed the organization, and the mothers of the young ladies were never worried about their daughters while they were out with the Corvettes entertaining the men of the Armed Forces. Several of our Grand Masters had the honor of leading the Grand March with Mrs. Connolly at the dances held in the Armory.

Twice a year a Grand Ball was given at the National Guard Armory. These were largely attended, and on each occasion the Armory was filled to capacity. A short street parade would precede each dance. The Shrine Band, Shrine Drum Corps and Shrine Patrol participated in several of the parades, together with the local Masons, the Tall Cedars and Shriners.

At a number of the dances the soldier holding the lucky number was given a free telephone call to his home regardless as to location. On one occasion Sgt. Howard C. Kern of Ridgefield Park, N. J., held the lucky number. "I appreciate the offer to make the call to my folks," Sgt. Kern told Col. Solomon, "but I am going home next Tuesday and would like to turn over the ticket to my pal Private Dyer, who lives in Michigan and has'n't seen or talked with his folks for a long time." The call was made to Caro, Michigan, and it is needless to say that the parents were delighted to receive a call from their son and were most grateful to the Masonic War Service Board for making it possible.

At one time a Company of Negro soldiers were stationed at Camp Burlingame. The Commanding Officer called up Brother Mitchell, and asked if a dance would be arranged for his men. Chairman Mitchell called up the War Board, and was informed that our Masonic war work did not discriminate in race, creed or color, and to make the necessary arrangements. Brother Mitchell called up the most prominent colored lady in Westerly, who assured him that she could provide the girls, which she did, informing the young ladies that it would be a formal dance. Brother Mitchell and several of his committee attended the dance, and reported that it was a great success and very much appreciated by our colored soldiers.

Dear Mr. Mitchell:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you and your organization for all that you have done for the officers and enlisted men who have been stationed at NAAS, Westerly, during the past two and a half years.

Those of us who are left, a mere handful, are very grateful to you, for we feel, as did all those who have come and gone, that Westerly has been our best duty in the Navy. The thought and effort put forth by you and your organization has played a great part in bringing this about.

The Navy leaves NAAS, Westerly, owing a debt of gratitude, and it will always remember its stay here.

Dear Brother Secretary,

I received a letter from my son, who is stationed at Watch Hill, telling me what wonderful things your Club is doing for the men in service. Like all mothers, I have worried about him, but when I received his letter this morning, and I read where he was spending his "Hours Off," I knew my worries were over. May I, through you thank your Club and its members who have made it possible for the boys in service to spend their time among pleasant surroundings. It gives them a different outlook to know there is a place away from home where they are welcome, and feel that they are with friends.

Dear Mr. Solomon:

May I express to you the appreciation of the men of my command for the dances your committee has made possible. The Corvettes are a splendid group of young women, and their visits are always anticipated with pleasure.

Mr. Mitchell and his associates did a splendid job. The parties under their control are always enjoyable, orderly, and well conducted.

We are a small unit, pretty well isolated. The larger organizations do little for us, so we are especially grateful for your thoughtfulness.

Again thanking you, and wishing you a Merry Christmas, I am,

"THIS IS THE ARMY"

Mr. Henry D. Sharpe, President and Treasurer of the Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Co., was drafted by the Army to be Chairman of the Rhode Island Committee for the premiere showing of the spectacular movie, "This Is The Army", which was held at the Shubert-Majestic Theatre on September 9, 1943. Mr. Sharpe then requested the Chairman of the Masonic War Service Board to assist him in planning and carrying out the details. The banks, manufacturers, business firms and individuals were requested to purchase blocks of tickets which were distributed to service men in this vicinity. The production was a great success, approximately $7,000.00 was realized which was given to the Army Relief Fund.

A FEW MORE LETTERS OF APPRECIATION

Commanding Officer,
Coast Guard Station,
Narragansett, R. I.
6 October, 1944.

Col. Winfield Scott Solomon,
Masonic War Service Board,
Providence, R. I.

Dear Sir:—

I would like to take this opportunity of thanking you on behalf of the crew and myself, for your splendid cooperation in regards to repairing this unit's pool table.

I need not tell you in detail of the crew's appreciation of your efforts, for the smiles on their faces when they saw the finished table, spoke for itself.

The repairing of the pool table might not seem too much to you, but to us it means many pleasant hours spent during the long winter nights. There are very few recreational activities available at this unit; the pool table plays an important role in maintaining a high standard of morale among the crew.

With the service you have rendered it can easily be seen how the Masonic organization attained its enviable reputation. In closing let me extend our sincerest thanks again; and if ever we might be able to assist you in any way do not hesitate to call on us.

Thankfully yours,

C. D. Keegan, Lt. (JG)
Commanding Officer.

EASTERN SIGNAL CORPS SCHOOL
FORT MONMOUTH, N. J.

July 17, 1942.

Dear Colonel Solomon:—

I have talked to Private Robert W. Phillips, Jr., and extended greeting of Overseas Lodge to him, also your personal good wishes.

He is at present a student in the Wire Division, Eastern Signal Corps School, Enlisted Men's Department, Fort Monmouth, N. J., enrolled in the specialty "Installer-Repairman, Local Battery". This is quite a coincidence, as I happen to be the assistant to the Officer in Charge of this Division.

Private Phillips has been doing excellent work in his course in school. He also stated to me that he had made application for the Officers Candidate School, and the course which he is now taking would be of great help to him if his application for O. C. S. is approved. I advised him of this fact and gave him other advice and told him to come to see me at any time he needed assistance and advice.

I also asked Private Phillips to write to his father and tell him that I had talked to him.

Sincerely yours,

Carrol T. Bruton,
1st Lieut. Signal Corps.

P. S. We received a splendid letter of appreciation from the parents.

Col. Winfield S. Solomon,

Providence, R. I.

Dear Brother Solomon:—

Please allow me to express my appreciation and the appreciation of Temple Lodge for the splendid cooperation of your organization in obtaining the information on the son of one of our members, Brother Bowen, whose son was reported ill in the Naval Hospital at Portsmouth, Virginia. The history of this case has been read to the members of our Lodge and the fact stressed that contributions made by our members to the Masonic War Service Board is being expended for the operation of an efficient worthy organization. I, personally, was pleased to have had this experience, and to have been in a position to bring to our members an example of the good work being done in the interest of Masons and Masonry.

Affectionately and Fraternally yours,

Jas. Meehan,

132ND ENGINEER REGIMENT

FORT KEARNEY, R. I.

November 18, 1942.

Colonel Winfield S. Solomon,

Providence, R. I.

Dear Colonel Solomon:—

You will undoubtedly be glad to know that the games have been received by us, and are greatly appreciated. One of the ping pong tables is getting lots of action in our day-room, and the other is seeing service with the Q. M. Regiment. Judging from the waiting line each evening, I would say they are put to good use.

The demands on the pool table are even greater. I don't know whether this is an indication of the average background of the personnel, but some of them play a "mean game". If there should happen to be a spare billiard table that you know of, wasting away for want of use, perhaps it could be routed down this way to help relieve strain on our "one and only". Being somewhat isolated, as we are, the men depend a'most entirely on the day-room for their entertainment, and enthusiastically voice their approval of anything done for them.

Willie Hoppe, the current three-cushion billiard champion, gave an exhibition in the men's day-room last week, and has interested the men in the game of billiards.

Thank you again Colonel for all you have done for us here at Fort Kearney.

Sincerely,

George R. Snyder,

Commanding Co. C.

Dear Brother Solomon:—

It pleased me no end to receive the schedule of the various Lodges in Rhode Island. Right now I am a patient in the hospital and am unable to make any visits. In due time I'll be up and around and hope to be able to visit with you.

No matter what part of the world I have been in, I have found a Masonic Lodge. I was able to visit Tyre-Rhenian Masonic Club in Naples, Italy, and also Lodges in France, and hope soon to visit right here in Providence.

Faternally yours,

Owen R. Lewis,
Phar. Second Class, U. S. Navy.
Ward C.

P. S. Several of our contact men at Quonset, including Chief Frank Charlesworth, were notified and called at the hospital to see Brother Lewis.

GRAND LODGE OF PENNSYLVANIA

May 11, 1943.

Mr. DeForest Bowman,
Secretary Lodge, No. 277, F. & A. M.
Clarion, Pa.

Dear Brother Bowman:—

We have just received the following letter from Brother Colonel W. S. Solomon, Chairman of the Grand Lodge committee of the Masonic War Board of Rhode Island.

"We received your card in reference to Major Arthur B. Campbell. Major Campbell is in command of the Meteorological Section at Brown University and a member of Clarion Lodge, No. 277. It was my pleasure to call on Major Campbell personally and I had a most interesting visit with him. It was late in the afternoon when I called, just about the time they were to have retreat. Having been in the service for many years, the Major invited me to take retreat with him, and it was a pleasure to witness the 200 men of his organization pass in review.

I also took the Major to see our Masonic Officers Center a few blocks away from his headquarters at Brown University. He was more than delighted with the Center. We have turned over for the use of the Officers a magnificent residence which we have furnished at a cost of approximately $5,000 and gave it over for their use. They only pay a small weekly fee to cover overhead expense such as heat, light and service. The Major intends to make use of it after his wife returns home."

This is just one more concrete bit of evidence that the creation of these Grand Lodge and other committees have proved their worth to the men of the Craft in service and is sent to you for whatever action you may deem fit, possibly if you have any doubtful members in your Lodge, this may be the means of them seeing it in better light.

Faternally yours,

H. F. Hunt, Secretary.

MARINE BARRACKS, NAVAL AIR STATION,

Colonel Winfield S. Solomon,
Chairman Masonic War Service Board,
Providence, R. I.

My Dear Sir and Brother:—

I wish to go on record to thank you and the Masonic War Service Board of Rhode Island for the many kindnesses rendered to this barracks. The playing cards, games, magazines and books have been deeply appreciated by the members of this command.

With sincere thanks, I am,

Fraternally yours,

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J.

May 30, 1943.

Colonel W. S. Solomon, PGM.
Providence, R. I.

Dear Brother Solomon:—

Herewith a copy of a letter which I have just written to Brother Cull about his boy I am glad you wrote me.

Dear Brother Cull:—

"On Friday I received a letter from Brother Winfield Scott Solomon about your son. As my actual duty station is at a sub-post of Fort Monmouth about fifteen miles from here, I was not able to check your son's condition until today.

The nurse on your son's ward tells me that he has been in the hospital for the past 13 days and has passed the crisis. She assures me that the boy is now on the road to recovery and, while he was pretty sick, he is now definitely out of danger. I do not think therefore, that you need worry about him further. Of course, since he has scarlet fever, I am not permitted to visit him until he comes out of quarantine. I am not informed when this will be. However, if you will keep me posted on what you hear from him, I shall be glad to pay him a visit personally when I am permitted to do so.

If there is anything else that I can do for the boy please do not hesitate to command me. I recall with great pleasure my visit to Overseas Lodge several years ago. Perhaps I met you at that time."

Cordially and Fraternaly,

William Moseley Brown, PGM.
Major, Signal Corps.

SUSQUEHANNA LODGE, No. 130, A. F. & A. M.
HAVRE DE GRACE, MD.

July 26, 1944.

Colonel Winfield S. Solomon, P. G. M.
Providence, R. I.

Most Worshipful Sir:—

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter and I want to extend my appreciation for your efforts in securing the room.

My daughter-in-law will arrive in Providence on train 182 about 2 P. M. Monday, August 7th, and will call at the address mentioned in your letter.

I will give her the letter I received from you for identification.

Any time I can repay this courtesy, do not hesitate to call on me.

This is the second time I have been Master of our Lodge, 1932 and 1944, and this has been the busiest year we have ever had, a great number of local men have joined, and many courtesy degrees, we get them from the big Naval base at Bainbridge, Md., and the Army base at Aberdeen, Md.

Faternally yours,

Wm. Harvey Morris,
Master.

Following is an excerpt from a letter received from a member of one of Rhode Island Lodges:—"I have a son a private in the Air Corps, he is not in need of money but might be thrilled by a visit from a Lodge member in England. He is a boy thirty and one who does not drink. I would not want anyone to give him a drinking party."

ROOSEVELT LODGE, No. 42, F. & A. M.
PROVIDENCE, R. I.

February 1, 1943.

Mr. Winfield S. Solomon,
Providence, R. I.

Dear Brother Solomon:—

After listening to your wonderful address the other night covering the activities of the Masonic War Service Board here in Rhode Island, I thought I would drop you a line to let you know that previously I thought I knew something about the work you and your committee have been doing, but actually I knew nothing, after hearing what fine work you have been doing in different parts of the State. I thought the entire work was limited to the Hope St. project and Newport, but I feel better now that I went out in that storm to attend the meeting as I gained considerable information that I can impart to the brethren of our Lodge in order to have them show more interest in the activities of the Masonic War Service Board.

At the conclusion of the meeting I had an opportunity to talk with the Grand Master David Arnott and I suggested that if a copy of your address could be set up in pamphlet form and sent to every Mason in Rhode Island, there is no doubt as to what the reaction would be for I feel that most of them are unaware of the amount of work that is being put in and the number of places that are reached through your committee. May I in turn congratulate you on the excellent piece of work you are doing and I, being a veteran of the last war, realize in order to have a job done right such as you are doing, one must be a veteran, having gone through the same things these boys are encountering today. That in itself spurs you on to do as much as you possibly can for the boys in the same boat now that you were in in the last war. With best wishes and kindest personal regards, I am

Faternally yours,

Matt Segool.

THE GRAND LODGE OF A. F. & A. M. OF MARYLAND, BALTIMORE, MD.

September 28, 1943.

Col. Winfield S. Solomon, P. G. M.
Providence, R. I.

Dear Sir and Brother:—

For the committee, please accept our thanks for that prompt report on Edw. D. Early. You can imagine what this meant to the father and mother of this boy.

It is just work like this that is going to mean so much to our Fraternity.

We surely will try and take care of any names of brethren or sons of brethren you send us from Rhode Island.

Sincerely and Fraternally,

Wm. Fuchs, Jr.

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE MASONIC WAR SERVICE BOARD

MAY 18, 1942

M. J. W.: Grand Master and Brethren of Grand Lodge:

It is a pleasure to report the activities of the Masonic War Service Board for the past year.

The first opportunity for service which presented itself was the result of a visit by the Chairman to our then new Quonset Naval Air Station. Major Paul, a Past Master of Major General John A. Lejeune Lodge, Quantico, Virginia, very kindly consented to show the party through the area, and while going through the Marine Barracks, Brother Paul called attention to a portion of the building that was supposed to be for recreation activities; and remarked that the men were sitting around without even a book or a magazine to read, or a game of any kind to play. He pointed out a ping pong table for which he said they had no balls, bats or net. We realized at once that here was our first opportunity for service to the enlisted men of the Marines and Navy.

I called up the Grand Master immediately upon my return, and told him what had happened, and invited him to go to Quonset with me and look the place over, which we did the next day. We called on Major Morse, who was in command of the Marines, and he took us to the Executive Officer to whom we stated our desire to be of service to the men. Permission was immediately granted. We went to the wholesaler and purchased six dozen packs of playing cards and many games, such as men of the Marines and Navy would enjoy. We also obtained about 750 magazines, and had the whole shipment delivered to Quonset Point where it filled a very great need, as at that time nothing had been done in the way of recreation for the men at Quonset and Davisville.

NEWPORT AND JAMESTOWN

A meeting of our Committee was then called to discuss other projects within our Jurisdiction, and naturally Newport and Jamestown were the two most important places to be considered. Our plans were made known to the Masonic Service Association of the United States, and Major Charles S. Coulter, Director of the War Service Activities of the Association came to Providence and met with the Committee. It was finally agreed that our War Service Committee would lease the banquet hall and adjoining rooms at the Masonic Temple, Newport, for recreational activities for the enlisted men in and around Newport, the Service Association of the United States to provide a Director and an Assistant. We also called to see the Rev. John H. Wright, Rector of St. Matthew's Church, Jamestown, who told us they would be very glad to give the use of their Parish House for the activities for the enlisted men at Fort Getty and Fort Wetherell.

We agreed to put their pool table in order, arrange for satisfactory heating equipment for the Parish House, provide games and any other such service as we might be able to render. Both of these projects have been in operation for nearly a year, and have been serving the enlisted men at Newport and Jamestown. Rev. Matthew B. Porter, a member of St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 39, Riverside, is in charge of the work. Weekly dances have been held at Newport, and the Center is open for the use of enlisted men every day from noon until taps.

MASONIC OFFICERS' CENTER

The next project for consideration was the Horton house on Hope Street, in Providence, which was given to the Grand Lodge by Mrs. Bertram Horton to be used in connection with our Masonic Home Fund.

The Chairman called to see General Truesdell at Army Corps Headquarters, and told him that Grand Lodge owned this house, and would be very glad to put it in order for the benefit of the enlisted men as a Masonic Service Center. The General replied that there was nothing we could do for the enlisted men; that they had ample accommodations in the old Hope High building; and that the University Club, Hope Club and other organizations had furnished them with pool tables, games, and reading and writing equipment; in fact, they were so well taken care of, there was nothing that could be done for the enlisted men.

The thought was then suggested that it might be used for an officers' dormitory. The General said he had already rented a house, and had his family with him, and that he personally would have no time for club life; that he would pass the word along, and if there was any need for such services, he would be glad to let us know. Then a few days later Lieutenant Albert Barkin, a member of Major General Henry Knox Lodge of Boston called up the Chairman, and said that he had no doubt the house could be used for an officers' dormitory, and that he would be willing to go up and look it over with a view of a group of officers occupying it in the fall after returning from maneuvers.

An appointment was made and a few days later several of the officers went through the house, and expressed a desire to live there. They said they would be willing to bring their own cots and bedding, and thought they could assure us of six or eight officers to room there. They said they would assume the overhead expense.

They were to go on maneuvers at Fort Devens during the summer, and later to North Carolina, but would be ready to occupy the house by the tenth of December. Since the house had not been occupied for five years it required a lot of work and expense to put it in order, and plumbers, steamfitters, electricians, oil-burner men, and other mechanics were busy most of the summer reconditioning the house. The work was completed early in the fall.

The next step was to have the house furnished and made ready for the officers on their return. Announcement was made at the Semi-Annual Communication of Grand Lodge in November, and the Grand Master and District Deputies referred to the project when they spoke at various Lodge meetings relative to furnishing the house, and requested gifts from the various bodies as well as individuals.

The officers returned from southern maneuvers ten days ahead of schedule, but we were ready for them within a few days, and they moved in as soon as accommodations were ready. As the use of the house came to the officers without any charge, they simply assumed the running expenses of the Center. We were most fortunate in obtaining Brother and Mrs. Roy Nickerson, who are Resident Caretakers. The house is now wholly occupied, and provides a home for ten or twelve Army Officers.

We are indebted to the following, which have either furnished a room or have made contributions of furniture or money: St. Johns Lodge, No. 1, Providence; Mt. Vernon Lodge, No. 4, Providence; Mt. Moriah Lodge, No. 8, Limerock; Harmony Lodge, No. 9, Pawtuxet; Union Lodge, No. 10, Pawtucket; What Cheer Lodge, No. 21, Providence; Nestell Lodge, No. 37, Providence; Overseas Lodge, No. 40, Providence; Thomas Smith Webb Lodge, No. 43, Providence; Providence Royal Arch Chapter, No. 1, Massasoit House, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Palestine Temple, Mystic Shrine, Trowel Club, Order of the Eastern Star, Rainbow Girls, and many individuals.

A reception was given to the new Commanding General of the Sixth Army Corps, Major General Ernest J. Dawley, on Friday evening, May 8th. Invitations were sent to all of the officers of the Sixth Army Corps, the Army Air Station at Hillsgrove, the U. S. Engineers Office, Recruiting Office, Col. Charles Stevenson and his staff in charge of Reserve Officers, Lt. James A. Tillinghast and officers of his staff, and General Herbert R. Dean and the officers on his staff.

There were approximately 75 officers in attendance, the Grand Lodge being represented by its Grand Master, Deputy Grand Master, Senior and Junior Wardens, and the members of the Masonic War Service Board of Grand Lodge. It was a most enjoyable occasion, and it was of particular interest when Major General Dawley informed us he was a member of Highland Falls Lodge, New York State. Highland Falls is a village adjoining West Point, and he became a member while stationed at the Military Academy.

The greatest surprise of the evening was the introduction of his Chief of Staff, Col. Harold B. Gibson, a native of Rhode Island, and a "Made in Germany" member of Overseas Lodge, who received his degrees in Germany when he was a First Lieutenant in the First World War.

WESTERLY

Perhaps the most interesting and satisfactory Service Center of all is the Center at Westerly. Last fall Brother Robert Mitchell, President of the Square and Compass Club, of Westerly, Brother Lewis R. Greene, and Brother Carl Burdick called up and told us of the many enlisted men who were filtering into Westerly. They wanted to know if there was any way we could use their Masonic Club Rooms for the benefit of the boys in service.

The Chairman went to Westerly and met with these Brethren. Plans were made to use the Club Rooms, as well as the additional rooms on the same floor formerly occupied by the Elks Club. We furnished a ping pong table and a number of games, but the most interesting part of the work was the Thursday night dances, which became so popular that the Committee requested permission to hold them twice a week, and for the past few months dances have been held every Tuesday and Thursday. The service men come from many of the detachments all along the coast as far away as Groton, Connecticut.

The dances are in charge of Mrs. Lewis Green, who has done a magnificent piece of work in managing these parties. Recently we introduced a "Lucky Number Telephone Call." The enlisted man holding the "Lucky Number" has a free telephone call to his parents or sweetheart wherever they may be located in the United States. The first evening a Sergeant from New Jersey held the lucky number, but came forward at once and suggested that he give it to his pal, who lived in Caro, Michigan since he, himself, was going home shortly to see his family, and because he could call his home in New Jersey for only forty-five cents any evening. The crowd applauded this gesture, and the call was immediately put through, and Private Raymond L. Dyer talked with both his father and mother at Caro, Michigan.

"Lucky Number Telephone Call" has been in effect for more than a month, and many young men have had the first opportunity to talk with their parents since they left home. The Eastern Star and other organizations have been assisting in this work in Westerly.

EAST GREENWICH

Several dances have also been held in East Greenwich at St. Luke's Parish House. These were held for the benefit of the Army and Navy flyers at Hillsgrove and Quonset Point, and have been very enjoyable parties.

Perhaps one of the most important features of the work of the Board is to obtain the complete list of names and addresses of the members of the various Lodges for our permanent file. It is possible that after this war is over a history and roster of the war activities of the Grand Lodge of Rhode Island may be published. There are several Lodges which have not yet reported any members in service, but we would also call attention to the fact that we would also like the names of the sons of members who are in the service. In the case of Adelphoi Lodge where no names have been sent in, the Chairman recently met M. : W. : E. Tudor Gross on the street, and he informed him that he had 2 or 3 sons in the Service.

We are sending the names of Rhode Island members, and sons of members, to the Grand Jurisdictions in which they are stationed, and our Committee is receiving letters from nearly every jurisdiction in the country, giving the names of their members on duty in the State of Rhode Island. We send these names to the persons in charge of our authorized Service Centers or nearest Lodges, requesting that they call on the brethren, and assist them in any way possible. As soon as names are received from other Jurisdictions, a letter of welcome is sent to each individual from our Committee, extending a cordial and fraternal welcome from the Grand Jurisdiction of Rhode Island.

The Masonic War Service Board has completed another very busy year, and we feel that a lot has been accomplished for the benefit of our Brethren and their sons in the armed forces as well as for the Brethren and their sons from other Jurisdictions who are stationed in Rhode Island.

Since our last Annual Communication we have established two more Service Centers, one in Bristol and the other in Providence, in addition to assistance rendered the men at various Forts and Camps throughout the State.

The opportunity for work at Bristol was first learned from an item in the newspaper, to the effect that sailors were being sent there to man ships being built at the Herreshoff plant. We first communicated with Wor. Brother Edward Bunn, Past Master of St. Albans Lodge, who referred us to Brother Herbert B. Burnham, Jr., Junior Warden of the Lodge and President of the Club. I made several trips to Bristol and arranged to have the Club rooms in the Temple opened for the use of the men in the service. A large sign was erected on the front of the building which read "Army and Navy Masonic Service Center, All Service Men Welcome." A similar sign has been erected on all of our Centers. Brother Burnham informed me that the first group to arrive was wandering the streets with no place to go for recreation. Finally, one of the number discovered the emblem on the Masonic Temple and went in to see if the men could use the rooms. They were given a real welcome. We then reconditioned the two pool tables, installed new lights, furnished books, games, writing paper and other essentials necessary for the improvement of the Center and the entertainment of the men.

A few soldiers stationed at Mount Hope also made use of the Center, and as they were obliged to be on duty all night without light, and could not see to read, write or play cards, we provided them with musical instruments to while away the time and help keep them awake.

The Providence Center was opened about three months ago. We consulted with the Potentate and other officers of the Shrine, who kindly consented to allow us the use of the third floor of the Shrine Club as a Masonic Service Center, where we have a beautiful reading, writing and game room, bowling alleys, pool and ping pong tables, all of which is free to the men in the service. Brother Charles E. Cannon, a member of St. Johns Lodge, Providence, is the Director in Charge. This Center has already been visited by about 500 service men, representing 46 States, and has been another fine addition to our work in this State. We have provided each Center with post cards to be sent to the Secretary of the Lodge of each Mason who visits our Centers. They read as follows: "We recently had a visit from Brother (Blank) of your Lodge. It was a pleasure to greet him at our Center and to have him avail himself of the service we are rendering to our brethren in the armed forces. If at any time we can be of service to any of your members sojourning in our Grand Jurisdiction, it will be a pleasure to have you communicate with us." The name and address of the Center appears on each card.

The Center at Newport is progressing very nicely and doing fine work under the capable management of Brother Frank E. Hartwell, a Vermont Mason. This Center is sponsored by the Masonic Service Association of the United States, except for the rent of the building, which is paid by our Grand Lodge.

The Center at Westerly, which is located in the heart of the City, has been particularly active. We have conducted dances in Westerly, Arcadia, Atlantic Beach, Camp Burlingame and Charlestown. An interesting dance was recently held at Camp Burlingame where one of the Companies stationed there is composed of Negro troops. The Captain of the Company requested Brother Richard Mitchell, who is in charge of the work in Westerly, to arrange a dance for them some time. Brother Mitchell conferred with our Committee, and we authorized him to hold the dance. A prominent colored woman in Westerly agreed to furnish the girls. She decided to make it a formal dance, and a bus load of colored girls in evening dresses were transported to the Camp, where a most interesting dance was held, including jitterbug contests. The entire party was most appreciative for the courtesy extended to them. The Westerly papers gave the event fine publicity.

The Commanding officers at the various Camps much prefer to have the dances brought to the Camp, where they can be better supervised.

The Officers Center on Hope Street continues to be a greatly appreciated service we are rendering to the officers of the armed forces. During the year we have accommodated more than a hundred different officers, and the fame of this Center is spreading throughout the Army and Navy. Recently, an officer arrived from Chicago and enquired at the Travelers' Aid in the Union Station as to where the Masonic Officers Center was located. He was given the address, called a taxi, and when he arrived at the Center he told Mrs. Nickerson that he had heard about the Center in Chicago, and wanted to see the place. He was going through Providence and spent a most enjoyable evening while waiting for his transportation to Camp.

A wedding was held at the Officers Center on October 26th. Lieutenant William L. Monstream, who was living at the Center informed us that his bride was coming over from Hartford, and wanted to know if we could suggest a minister to marry them. We told him that we would take care of the arrangements and have the wedding in the Center. We secured Col. Karl Schleede, Senior Chaplain of the Sixth Corps to perform the ceremony. The bridegroom was attended by Capt. Walter E. Slide, his Company Commander. Corporal Donald Burd, also from his Company, played the wedding march. Mrs. Nickerson, our hostess, was the Matron of Honor. Your committee provided refreshments and a gift for the bride. Lieutenant Monstream and his bride was greatly pleased, and said that they could never forget what the Masons had done for them in arranging their wedding. Our Grand Master honored the occasion with his presence, and acquitted himself with honor as he kissed the bride.

March 24th we gave a tea at the Center in honor of the Ladies of the XIIIth Corps. Wives of the members of our Committee took charge and sponsored a most delightful party, which was attended by over fifty ladies of the Corps, all of whom were strangers in Providence. Among those who poured were Mrs. David Arnett, wife of our Grand Master, Mrs. Alpheus Place, Grand Matron of the Eastern Star, Mrs. E. F. Reinhardt, wife of the Commanding General of the Corps, and Mrs. Herbert R. Dean, wife of General Dean, Selective Service Director.

April 10th a reception was given in honor of Major General E. F. Reinhardt, Commanding General of the XIIIth Corps, which was attended by about 150 officers from the various Army, Navy and Marine units throughout the State. A similar party was given a year ago for General Dawley and his officers of the VIth Corps, who are now serving in North Africa. All of the officers have been most appreciative for what the Masons of Rhode Island have done for them in providing such a fine residence for their use. It will be of interest to the brethren to know that the Officers Center is being operated without expense to the Grand Lodge; while we have given the house free for the use of the officers, they pay a small amount each week to take care of the heat, light, service, etc.

Last Wednesday General Reinhardt and his Aide, Captain Shelton were grounded at Camp Edwards and driven to Providence to put up for the night at the Officers Center. Last evening the officers of Grand Lodge and their ladies entertained our Grand Lodge guests and their ladies for dinner at the officers Center. In addition to the Generals, who lived there but a few days until their families arrived, we have been honored with the presence of Lt. Col. Henry M. Kennon, Anti-Aircraft Officer of the XIIIth Corps, Past Grand Master of Louisiana, and, at present one of our guests is Lieutenant Colonel Edward B. Pratt, recruiting office in Providence and Senior Warden of Major General Henry Knox Lodge of Boston. The Officers Center is being operated on the same basis as our other Centers, without distinction as to race or creed. At one time the Protestant Chaplain and the Catholic Chaplain were both residing at the Officers Center.

Service has also been rendered to the men at the forgotten places, such as Camps and Forts located where there is no Masonic Service Center, U. S. O., or any other welfare organization. We have provided pool tables, ping pong tables, games, books, etc., for the men at Fort Kearney, where there is not even a store, let alone a village. Now when they want something they write us. Recently the Captain wrote asking if we could help them out in regard to their laundry. They are unable to get service from the city and wanted to know if we could locate a washing machine for them in order that the men could do their own laundry. We located such a firm in Fall River, who were dealers in used laundry machines, and put them in touch with each other.

We have also rendered service at Jamestown, Quonset, Davisville, Fort Adams, East Greenwich and other places. On one occasions we took the St. Dunstan boy choristers to Fort Adams where they gave a concert in the recreation hall. We also furnished the reception room at the new WAAC officers quarters at Fort Adams. It seems that Brother Brig. Gen. Arthur G. Campbell, Commanding General of our coast defenses learned that the Shriners had furnished a similar room at Camp Edwards. and sent Major McCachern to Providence to see if the Masons of Rhode Island would not help them out. The Boston Citizens Committee furnished their large reception room.

We have also furnished a pool table for the Volunteers of America for use at their Center on South Main Street, Providence.

In January, Brother Lieutenant Colonel Pratt, Recruiting Officer, called us up and said that a group of WAAC officers were coming to Providence for the week-end of January 23rd and wanted to know if our Committee would give them a reception and dinner. Arrangements were made, and a reception held in one of the parlors at the Biltmore Hotel, followed by a dinner in the Town Room. Later in the evening we gave them the opportunity of visiting our Officers Center on Hope Street. Brother Pratt and the Ladies were most appreciative of what the Masons did for them.

A rather unusual incident was reported by Wor. Walter M. Baker, Past Master of Overseas Lodge, who was sojourning in Florida this winter. He attended a District visitation in St. Petersburg, which was attended by the Grand Master and a suite of Grand Lodge officers. After a report by the Chairman of their War Board, a Marine, who had been stationed at Quonset, arose and told the Brethren that they ought to know what the Masons of Rhode Island are doing for the Brethren who are stationed in their Jurisdiction.

A large part of the work of your committee has been interviews with members and their sons in regard to induction, volunteer enlistment, branch of the service they may be best suited for, officers training schools, etc. I have personally interviewed hundreds of our brethren or their sons. In cases where more definite information was necessary, we would refer them to officers in charge of various units in Providence, Newport or Boston, giving them a letter of introduction or by calling up the officer in question. When we receive letters from our sister Grand Jurisdictions advising us of the presence of some of their members, or sons of members in Rhode Island, as it is practically impossible to obtain a personal interview with these members or sons at our large Camps or Forts, we send them a letter of welcome, enclosing several cards giving the locations of our various centers, also a list of Lodges, including the name, number, location and dates of meetings of all Lodges in the Jurisdiction. We have had many letters of thanks and appreciation for this service. Some time ago such a letter was sent to Brother John A. Enschede at Davisville, a member of Donald Lodge, Donald, Oregon. Brother Enschede had some photographs taken in Providence, and was ordered away before they were ready. He had sent our letters of welcome and the receipt for the photographs to his wife in Oregon. She wrote to see if we could assist her in obtaining the photographs. We obtained the pictures, sent them to her, and received a most gracious letter of appreciation.

May we again remind the brethren of all the Lodges to be sure and send in the names of all their members who are in the service as well as the names of sons of members whether they are Masons or not. We endeavor to make a contact for all these men wherever they may be stationed, except in some foreign countries. It is also important to have these names because after this war is over we hope that a History and Roster will be printed of the War activities of our Grand Lodge, and it would be unfortunate to have any names omitted.

The Committee has also arranged with Fac-Simile Letter Co. for the use of its office in the Old Industrial Trust Building for our stenographic work and files. We have one file by Lodges for the names of our members and their sons in the service; another by States where our members and sons are stationed; and still another of the names of members and sons of members from other jurisdictions, who are stationed in Rhode Island.

We hope the Brethren who arrived by train today observed our sign in the Union Station.

Your Committee desires to express its thanks to Wor. Brother Arthur B. Tyler, Past Master of Union Lodge, No. 10, Pawtucket, and to Wor. Brother Elmer J. Rathbun, Past Master Ionic Lodge, No. 28, Greene, for their contribution to our War Fund.

We also desire to thank the representatives of the various Lodges attached to our Committee for their assistance in this work.

MAY 15, 1944

The Masonic War Service Board has had a very active year with so many men stationed within our Grand Jurisdiction and with our continued activity in endeavoring to keep in touch with our Brethren, their sons and daughters in the armed services. Masonic activity throughout the country is beginning to pay dividends with thousands of applications being received. Naval Lodge at Vallejo, Cal., writes that they have 109 applicants waiting for the degrees. The secretary of Anchorage Lodge in Alaska states that "we have put on over 200 degrees during the past year, and California has refused to accept any more requests to have degrees conferred in Hawaii, there are so many already waiting for the work." In our own jurisdiction a number of the Lodges are exceptionally busy.

The Service work throughout the State is progressing very satisfactorily. The Center at Newport under the very able direction of Brother Frank E. Hartwell is very active and rendering a fine service. Many requests are received from sister jurisdictions as well as from Lodges in our own Jurisdiction requesting information concerning patients in the Naval Hospital at Newport, and for various other reasons all of which we refer to Brother Hartwell who gives them immediate attention; recently a request was received from the Grand Lodge of Maryland concerning Seaman 2-c Edward D. Earley, son of a member of Doric Lodge, Baltimore, stating that the young man was to undergo a serious operation and that his parents were very anxious regarding his condition and requested a prompt report. Within a very few hours an Air Mail letter was on its way to Baltimore, and within two days we received the following acknowledgment: "For the committee please accept our thanks for that prompt report on Edward D. Earley." "You can imagine what this meant to the father and mother of this boy. It is just work like this that is going to mean so much for our Fraternity, (Signed) William Fuchs, Jr., Director."

Westerly is also a very active Center. Brother Richard Mitchell and his Committee are doing a fine job. The Center itself is very active, and they continue to hold dances at the various Camps in that locality, including Charlestown Airport, Atlantic Beach and Westerly. Two large formal dances have been held during the year in the Armory at Westerly. We took the Shrine Band down for the dance on June 9th, and after a short street parade they played a concert in the Armory, which was followed by dancing. December 29th another formal dance was held in the Armory, at which time the Grand Master led the Grand March with Mrs. Connolly, who is in charge of the Corvettes. These events were very largely attended.

The Center at Bristol is not as active as the others, but is taking care of the Navy boys who are sent there to man the boats being built at the Herreshoff plant.

The Shrine Club continues to render a fine service—more than two thousand visitors have registered, representing every State in the Union. Many important Masonic contacts are made at this Center.

The Officers Center on Hope Street has been filled to capacity most of the year. Officers of the British Navy have predominated during the past year. They are sent here to man the ships being built at Walsh-Kaiser. They are a most interesting and appreciative group of Officers, and among them we have found several who were interesting speakers, and we have made a number of engagements for them to speak at some of our Lodges.

The Grand Master has made frequent use of the house for Conferences with his officers and for other activities. Our guests at Grand Lodge today enjoyed a visit to the Center yesterday. The Center was the scene of another wedding which took place on Saturday, June 19th, when Lieutenant Archie Similperi was married to Miss Mary Borden, the daughter of a Mason in Mississippi. The Grand Master honored the occasion with his presence and very efficiently emulated the example of his predecessor by kissing the bride.

The work of your committee is not confined wholly to the work at the various Centers, but includes activities at many other Camps and stations. We have furnished pool tables for use of the enlisted men at the following places, the Masonic Service Center at Newport, the Coast Guard at Newport, the John Hope Center in Providence, the Cranston Canteen, the Army Airport, Hillsgrove, and the Charlestown Airport. These are in addition to those already in use at other Forts and Camps, which have been supplied by your Committee in previous years. We also re-conditioned a pool table for the 368th Searchlight Battalion stationed at the Vanderbilt Farm in Portsmouth. And, through the courtesy of the Providence Music Committee, we supplied a bass drum for the 106th Naval Construction Battalion just leaving Davisville for Overseas duty.

At the Army Airport, Hillsgrove, we furnished an Officers Reception Room, where members of families and guests can be received and entertained. The room was officially opened on New Years Day. The Grand Master and the Chairman of the Board with their ladies attended. In appreciation of this courtesy a large and beautiful shield adorns the wall inscribed as follows:

"This room was furnished by the Masonic War Service Board of Rhode Island."

We also sponsored several dances for the enlisted men at Hillsgrove, a Valentine Dance, a St. Partick's Dance, and an Easter Dance.

We have also furnished musical instruments for a band and orchestra at the Naval Net and Fuel Depot, Melville, and on March 29th we took Bert Shurtleff, former Brown football and wrestling star, to Melville, where he gave an exhibition in the large entertainment hall of his expose of professional wrestling. A few days later we received the following letter from the welfare officer:

"I want to thank you for bringing Mr. Shurtleff to our station. Mr. Shurtleff provided the boys with a great deal of entertainment and instruction, as well as exposing professional wrestling."

(Signed) Lieutenant Robert P. Hunter.

In the late spring we chartered a bus and took the St. Dunstan Boy Choirsters to Fort Adams, where they gave a splendid concert at the Recreation Hall.

The inductees from Rhode Island all report at Fort Devens, Mass. Fortunately we are represented there at the Recruit Reception Center by Major Frank C. Kenyon, a member of Harmony Lodge, for whom we instruct our Brethren and their sons to ask when they report. This makes a nice personal contact on their first day in the Armed Forces of their country. Brother Kenyon takes a personal interest in each one, and gives them additional advice and instruction. We have received many letters of appreciation from this courtesy.

Another large and important part of the work of your Committee has been obtaining information for many of our members concerning men sick in hospitals, missing men, wounded men, men whom their families have not heard from in some time and numerous other cases. We will mention just a few of them:

A son of Stanley D. Rogers, a member of St. Johns and Overseas Lodges, entered the service and was ordered to a Camp in Michigan. Our usual letter was forwarded to their Masonic War Council. Shortly thereafter young Rogers received a call from Judge Neil E. Reid, Past Grand Master, inviting him to call and see him. The young man was quite disturbed and called his father on the telephone. The father called your Chairman, and asked what it was all about. When the matter was explained, the contact was made and everybody was happy.

A young man in the Air Corps received our usual letter of welcome, to which he replied as follows: "I want to thank you very much for the very nice letter you sent me. I thought it was quite an honor. My father is a member of the Masonic Lodge of Nebraska, and some day I too hope to be a member of this great Lodge. There is one thing I am puzzled about, and that is how you ever received my name, but then, I guess there are many ways of finding out a thing like that. The place I am at offers no news whatsoever that will pass the censor's eye, and so that is why this letter is short. If I am ever in Providence, I will be glad to use the invitations you have extended to me." (Signed) "Eugene Myers."

A member of Rising Sun Lodge recently called up and asked if we could make contact with his son in Florida. The parents were very much disturbed at not having heard from their son for a long time. Contact was immediately made through the Masonic Service Center at Jacksonville, and an Air Mail reply was received, which contained the information that the young man had been too busy to write.

Brother Samuel Farron, Past Master of Morning Star Lodge wrote some time ago stating that his son and daughter-in law were unable to find a place to live in or near his Camp at Gulfport, Miss. We sent through a letter to their Grand Lodge War

Board, and within a few days Brother Farron called up and said that he had received two letters from Gulfport, one from the Master and the other from the Secretary of Gulfport Lodge, No. 422, stating that they would do all that was possible for the young couple.

Brother MacKenzie, of What Cheer Lodge, requested us to obtain information regarding a young man in a Hospital in San Antonio, Texas, just evacuated home from the South Pacific, who was in a serious condition and the family could not obtain any satisfactory information regarding the boy. We made contact through a Rhode Island Mason residing in San Antonio. The desired information was received and given to Brother MacKenzie.

We read in the news reports several months ago that Gordon Miller, a young Marine was missing in action in the South Pacific. Realizing that the young man was the son of Brother Gordon T. Miller of Overseas Lodge, we immediately sent an Air Mail Letter to Brig. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Commanding Officer of the first Marine Division, a Rhode Island Mason, requesting him to investigate for us. We received a very prompt Air Mail reply to the effect that young Miller was with another Marine Division stationed elsewhere in the Pacific, but he would do what he could to find out about the young man. Soon after, however, an official notice was received by the father that his son had been killed in action.

We have had three serious cases reported by Wor. Brother Bernard H. Ineson, representative of E. L. Freeman Lodge in connection with our War Service Board. The first was the case of the Harrop Boy who lost both his legs in a Mediterranean battle. He was returned to a Hospital in Charlestown, South Carolina, where he made contact through Lt. Com. Ross H. Currier, a Rhode Island Mason, who drove 15 miles to the hospital to see him, gave him a carton of cigarettes, and offered to send his mother from Providence to see him, but Harrop replied that he did not want to see his mother until he had a pair of legs and was able to walk.

The second case was that of a son of one of their members who was a patient in a Hospital on Staten Island, New York, with whom we made contact through the Grand Lodge of New York; and the third case was that one of their members in a Hospital at Camp Shelby, Miss., with whom contact was made through the War Board of the Grand Lodge of Mississippi.

We cannot always produce results. Brother Weidman, I believe a member of Corinthian Lodge, called to see me in regard to obtaining some information concerning his brother William A. Weidman, a graduate of Brown and a Professor in the University of the Philippines, who was interned at Manila. A cablegram was sent to Mr. Weidman with a guaranteed collect reply requested, but the Japs refused to allow the message to be sent.

Wor. Brother Rosen, Master of Redwood Lodge, recently requested the Board to obtain information concerning their Senior Deacon, Brother Arthur Novogroski, who was seriously ill in the Hospital at Norfolk, Va. We at once communicated with Brother Captain James V. Claypool, Senior Chaplain of the Navy at Norfolk, who personally called to see Brother Novogroski, and whose report was promptly received and furnished to Brother Rosen.

Last September the premiere showing of the great movie, "This is the Army", was held at the Majestic Theatre. Mr. Henry D. Sharpe accepted the Chairmanship and requested the Chairman of your Board to assist him. The production was a great success, which resulted in a net profit of nearly $7,000.00 for the Army Emergency Relief.

We again desire to remind all of the subordinated Lodges to send in the names of their members and those of the sons and daughters of members who are in the Armed Forces in order that we may have as complete a record as possible of the participation of Rhode Island Masonry in World War II. It is expected that a History and Roster will be published after this war is over and naturally every Lodge should make an effort to have their record complete.

The Annual Meeting of Grand Lodge was omitted this year.

NOVEMBER 19, 1945

The work of the Masonic War Service Board has continued for the past year with but little change, contacting and welcoming, to Rhode Island, soldiers and sailors from other Jurisdictions; endeavoring to establish contacts for our own members and their sons and daughters in other States; keeping records of the service of Rhode Island Masons, working toward a complete military record of our members, their sons and daughters, the generation which will carry on.

The work at Westerly has been very active. On Saturday, January 13th accompanied by the Grand Master, we attended the Annual Meeting of the Square and Compass Club, which was largely attended and a most interesting meeting. Brother Judge Rathbun officiated as Toastmaster. On May 29th Overseas Quartette entertained at one of their regular dances. June 28th another dance was held in the Armory, the largest they have held, and on this occasion the Shrine Patrol and Drum Corps were taken to Westerly in two busses. They participated in a short street parade. The Patrol also gave an exhibition drill in the Armory. The Grand Master was present, and led the Grand March with Mrs. Connolly, Chairman of the Corvettes. On Thursday, October 4th a Farewell Party was held at Les Rendezvous on Bradford Road. This was their final dance because most of the stations in and around Westerly have been closed. Refreshments were served and gifts presented to those who so willingly and unselfishly gave of their time and talents during the past four years. The Center, however, will keep open for some time because of a large number of men still on duty at the Charlestown Airport and a few hundred remaining at the Westerly Airport.

The Center at Bristol, while not very active, affords a fine place of entertainment for 150 men stationed on Prudence Island, and a detachment of the Coast Guard at Bristol.

The Centers at Providence and Newport, which are sponsored by the Masonic Service Association of the United States, have been very active.

The Masonic Officers Center on Hope Street in Providence has had a very active year. In fact, during the past month the house has not only been filled, but we have had a waiting list. This is largely due to Naval officers stationed at Brown University. During the four years this Center has been open we have accommodated between 400 and 500 officers, seven of whom were killed in action.

The Army Airport at Hillsgrove was closed early this summer, and the furniture we supplied for a recreation room was transferred to the Marines at Quonset. The Cranston Center has also been closed, and the pool table transferred to the Marine Corps League in Providence.

We have been very fortunate in having fine representatives at Quonset and Davisville. We refer all requests for Quonset to Brother Frank Charlesworth, a member of Unity Lodge at Lonsdale, who extends a welcome to all sojourning Masons or their sons. He also makes hospital calls and acts as instructor to candidates. On one occasion we asked Brother Charlesworth to look up Brother Owen R. Lewis, a patient in the Hospital. He not only met Brother Lewis, but found another Brother named Donald Nelson. Brother Lewis stated that he had visited a Lodge in Naples, and was a member of the Square Club, of which General Mark Clark was President.

At Camp Endicott, Chief Petty Officer Howard N. Pulley, a member of Overseas Lodge No. 40, from Montana, has been our Representative. A few months ago we received a request from the Grand Lodge of New York to furnish information concerning the condition of Brother Michael Nunez, a member of their La Universal (Spanish) Lodge, No. 751, Brooklyn, who was a patient in the Hospital at Camp Endicott. He had lost an eye in battle, and is becoming blind. You can imagine how he feels, especially when his wife just gave birth to a boy. His Lodge was particularly anxious to get a report on this Brother. Brother Pulley not only obtained the information, which was immediately sent to New York, but when Brother Nunez was able to get around, Brother Pulley brought him to Providence to attend a meeting of Overseas Lodge.

The Board has continued to send letters of sympathy to the parents or families of members, or sons, who have been killed in service, and has arranged for or suggested speakers for some of the Lodges.

R. : W. : Albert W. Clafin was Chairman of the Committee to entertain the National Officers of the Grotto, and requested that a visit to Quonset be arranged for them. We called on Captain Wyatt, who gave the party a very interesting talk on the activities at the Naval Air Station, and furnished an escort to conduct the party through the Station, after which they had lunch at the Officers Club. We received a splendid letter of appreciation from Brother Harry E. Baker, the Grand Monarch.

Following are some of the contacts we have been able to make for some of the Lodges or individuals.

Brother James Mills, Master of Temple Lodge requested us to try to obtain information concerning the condition of Private Walter R. Waterman, a member of Temple Lodge, who was a patient in a Hospital in Italy. An Air Mail letter was sent to the Commanding Officer of his Unit, and an immediate reply was received, giving the condition of the patient. This information was forwarded at once to Brother Mills.

Brother Walter E. Marshall, Master of St. Johns Lodge, No. 1, Providence, called at the War Board Office to check the list of members and the sons and daughters of members, and at the time supplied the Board with additional names among which was the name of the son of Brother Taylor. A letter was sent to the Grand Lodge of Wisconsin, which resulted in a courtesy extended to the young man. Brother Marshall later informed us that the parents of the young man were delighted with the courtesy extended their son.

A letter was received from the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, informing us that Brother Colonel R. Oberholzer was on duty at the Naval War College at Newport. We immediately notified Brother John Davis, Captain of the U. S. S. Constellation who called on Brother Oberholzer, and on the following day brought him to Davisville to attend a meeting of the National Sojourners, where we had the pleasure of meeting him personally. One remark he made was "Wait until my good old dad hears how soon Masonry found me in Rhode Island."

Brother Clarence C. Pritchard, New Orleans, La., a member of Overseas Lodge, returned to Providence, expecting to remain here. He was unable to find satisfactory living accommodations, and decided to return to New Orleans. He was then confronted with obtaining necessary releases for leaving the State. We furnished him with the names of brethren who were officials in the various departments. The result is explained in the following excerpts from his letter: "At this date I want to thank you for your assistance, as in following your instructions I was able to get by the W. M. C. and O. P. A. That was on Friday, and on Sunday I was on my way."

Brother Erving T. Arnold, Master of Union Lodge, called up and asked us to obtain information relative to Brother Alba Young, a member of Union Lodge, who was a patient at the Newport Naval Hospital. I personally called to see Brother Young, who was troubled about a pension. We took the matter up with the Veterans Administration. They sent a representative to see him, but before a report could be received from Washington, Brother Young died. We then advised Brother Arnold to inform Mrs. Young that she was entitled to a widow's pension.

We received notification from the Grand Lodge of New York that Brother Manley R. Keck, a member of Craftsman Lodge, No. 969, Rochester, N. Y., was stationed at the Naval Air Station, Quonset. We immediately passed along the information to our representative, Brother Frank Charlesworth, who reported as follows: "I sent for Brother Keck, and had a long talk with him. He felt so good to think that Masonry had found him that he almost cried. I made it pleasant for him, and gave him one of the Masonic calendars."

We received a request from St. Paul's Lodge, Newport, stating that they had been informed that a member of their Lodge, Lieutenant Charles A. Hambly, Jr., was injured in an accident at Camp McCook Nebraska. We telegraphed the Secretary of McCook Lodge, who immediately replied that Brother Hambly had suffered minor scalp abrasions, and had been discharged from the hospital.

During the summer the Grand Master asked me to look into a request that he had received from the Red Cross, relative to furnishing a sun room at the Naval Hospital in Newport. I drove to Newport, interviewed the Commanding Officer at the Naval Hospital, but he knew nothing about such a request. I then went to the City Hospital with the same result. Eventually we received a letter from the Red Cross, stating that it was the Psychiatric Ward at the Naval Training Station for which the furnishings were desired. I made several trips to the Station, and finally found the metal furniture they desired in New Bedford. We requested the Eastern Star at Newport to furnish curtains. When everything was ready to arrange a date for the dedication, the Ward was closed. The furniture, however, was badly needed in their recreation room.

We received a request from a Miss Thomas, an enlisted girl in the WAVES, who was stationed at Norfolk, Va. She desired a transfer to Quonset in order to be near her mother who lives in Providence, who is a widow and had just undergone a serious operation and lived alone. We first conferred with Captain Wyatt, Commanding Officer at Quonset, who said that he would be pleased to approve the transfer, providing they would release her at Norfolk. We then wrote to Captain Claypool, Chaplain at Norfolk, who replied that Miss Thomas did not come under his jurisdiction, and that he had referred our letter to the Senior Chaplain at her Station. His reply was that a transfer in her case would not be approved. This, however, did not discourage us. We then enlisted the assistance of the Red Cross, and eventually the transfer was accomplished. Miss Thomas is now on duty at Quonset, and is living at home with her mother.

May we again remind the brethren that if Grand Lodge is to publish a History of the participation of Rhode Island Masonry in World War II and a Roster of its members and their sons and daughters, we should have a complete list from all the Lodges. Service in the Armed Forces means service in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, only, between the dates of December 8, 1941 and September 2, 1945.

MAY 20, 1946

The work of the Masonic War Service Board is rapidly coming to an end. The Centers at Providence, Westerly and Bristol have been closed. The Officers Center on Hope Street continues to be filled to capacity, the property has been sold and after the Naval Unit at Brown University finishes its season the latter part of June and the contents disposed of, the property will be turned over to the new owner. This has been a most successful enterprise; over 500 officers have been accommodated at this Center.

The Center at Newport is still rendering splendid service to the enlisted men in that vicinity.

We have also rendered service to a number of the Lodges during the past few months, particularly in connection with men in the Hospitals. Warwick Lodge requested information concerning the condition of a son of one of their members at the Naval Hospital in Newport. We immediately wrote to brother Cole in charge of the Center in Newport, also to Captain John Davis, who investigated and reported on the case. The young man had a very serious shrapnel wound in the leg.

We also had a call from Mt. Vernon Lodge that the son of their Master was a patient in a Hospital in New Orleans and that the family could not obtain any reliable information as to his condition; We received an immediate reply to our telegram which we telephoned to the mother who at that time was a patient in the Homeopathic Hospital in Providence, and she was delighted to learn that her son would be discharged from the Hospital in a few days; in fact they were both discharged on the same day.

We are now looking forward to the publishing of a History and Roster of the participation of Rhode Island Masonry in World War II. The names have been coming in very satisfactorily of late, and we hope to submit corrected lists for approval in a very short time.

MASONIC WAR CHEST

The Masonic War Chest was established on May 15, 1944, "to hold all funds for war purposes of whatever nature and to allocate such monies as in their judgment may be necessary, subject only to the counter-signature of the Grand Master."

The first duty was to appraise the needs of the local Masonic War Service Board in order that full cooperation might be given to them in carrying on their excellent work for the men of the Armed Services. The next effort resulted in the establishment by the Masonic Service Association of a second Service Center in Rhode Island. This Center is located at 437 Westminster Street, Providence, was dedicated on December 4th, 1944, and continues to do a good job.

It was readily seen that more money would be needed than that provided by the special Grand Lodge assessment of One Dollar per member, already in effect. A voluntary contribution plan was worked out, the spirit and purpose of which are well stated in the following quotation from the November 1, 1944 Proclamation of the Grand Master. "That there may be a concerted effort in this endeavor, I proclaim the period from November 20th, 1944 to January 20th, 1945, a time of dedication for this purpose and ask that our members, through their Lodges, give according to their ability that we may not fail those who are doing so much to preserve our Institution and our way of life."

The result, as you all know, was a whole-hearted and enthusiastic response, splendidly led by the Second District, supported by each District Deputy, by each and every Lodge in the State and by an overwhelming majority of individual Brethren. It was hoped that $15,000 or more might be raised, but the total at the end of the campaign stood at $24,166.22. If we need further evidence of the generous spirit of giving, which overflowed Lodge boundaries, we may mention that $410 of the above amount was voluntarily contributed by Eastern Star Chapters and their affiliates, by Tall Cedars, by the Grotto and by numerous individuals.

A mere statement of thanks, however sincere, is insufficient to acknowledge such a free-will offering. Our only proper expression of gratitude may be found in the preservation of these funds for the Masonic purposes visioned by our Grand Master in his plans for the Service members of our Lodges. These Brethren have sacrificed much, have done much and are doing much for us and for the Fraternity. As they return to civilian life, opportunities will appear whereby we may cooperate with their Lodge Service Committees in extending a friendly and helping hand to them and to their families. In this manner, as needs arise, we will discharge the trust placed in us and make effective the gifts of our generous Brethren.

The financial statement of the War Chest will be found in the report of the Grand Treasurer. The Masonic Service Board has received ample financial support for its activities. The excellent work which this Board has continued to do is set forth in its reports to Grand Lodge. The Masonic Service Association of the United States has received $5,000 for its work, and also substantial assistance in payments of rent for its two Masonic Centers located in Rhode Island. The sum of $20,000 has been invested in short-term U. S. Certificates of Deposit, ready to be released on order of the Grand Master as occasion may require.

We recommend that Grand Lodge does not impose a One Dollar Assessment for War Chest work during the coming year. We do not propose any solicitation for contributions at present, although we are always ready to receive any money which the Brethren of Rhode Island may wish to add in support of their Masonic War Chest.

The privilege of serving Grand Lodge in this work has been a happy one. We look forward hopefully to see much good come to Masonry and Masons as a result of the vision of our Grand Master and the generosity of the Brethren of this Grand Jurisdiction.

Respectfully submitted,

MASONIC WAR CHEST,

RALPH SIMPSON, P. G. M., Chairman.
